QUAKE FOLLOWED BY PESTILENCE

Cholera Epidemic Breaks Out In the Port of Yokohama

Destruction by Quake Is Tremendous But Death Toll Is Not Believed Large as Had Been Feared.

(By The Associated Press.)
Though latest reports from Japan lead to the hope that the death toll is not as large as had been feared the destruction wrought by the quake, tidal wave, and fire has been tremendous. A despatch from Shanghai today says that information received there makes it apparent that the losses in life and property were much "exaggerated". Different sources agree, however, that two-thirds of Tokyo has been laid waste. A message from the American consul at Shanghai to the State Department quotes a British courier at Yokohama as authority for the statement that the city has been virtually destroyed. Three United States destroyers have arrived at Yokohama and taken aboard 300 Americans. One report which has not been confirmed says cholera has broken out in the port. The three home offices still estimate the dead in the capital at 30,000 but makes no attempt to strike a total for Yokohama, the many coastal towns in the path of the waves or other communities in the quake zone. The foreign residential section in Tokyo and the port seem to have escaped the destruction owing to their favorable location, but the Japans and the industrial districts were hit severely. However, Tokyo's buildings of modern construction are said to have escaped.

DEATH OF MRS. DUPREE
Mrs. C. W. Dodson received a telegram last night announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. Cornelia Conway Dupree at Santa Fe, Florida. Mrs. Dupree was stricken with paralysis a week ago and her condition was known to be critical, but having lain somewhat, her relatives entertained hope of partial recovery. Mrs. Dodson had recently returned from Florida where she had been with her mother, for several weeks. Mrs. Dupree was the sister of the late J. B. Conway and spent the years of her life here. For a number of years she had made her home with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Truella, in Los Angeles, Cal., and it was only within the last year she had resided in Florida. She leaves a C. Conway, L. Conway, P. F. Conway and Mrs. Willard Holland, all of Danville are near relatives of Mrs. Dupree. Among the older people of Danville she is well remembered by many who will be grieved to hear of her death.

JUROR TAKES ISSUE WITH WITNESS, MISTRIAL RESULTS

An unusual situation was presented in the Corporation court this morning when Claude Bishop, a youth arrested recently in Spartanburg, S. C., for the larceny of an automobile belonging to J. M. Davis, was on trial. The case had been almost closed and the defendant was on the stand when B. Frank Gravelly, one of the jurors on the panel, took issue with the veracity of the accused in a statement made by him, and thus became a witness.

A result was ordered and the case will be tried by another jury. Mr. Gravelly in making the remark he did was actuated it was explained only by a motive of fairness. It was the opinion of several of the jurors that Bishop would have been convicted, when the disclosure was made in the jury room.

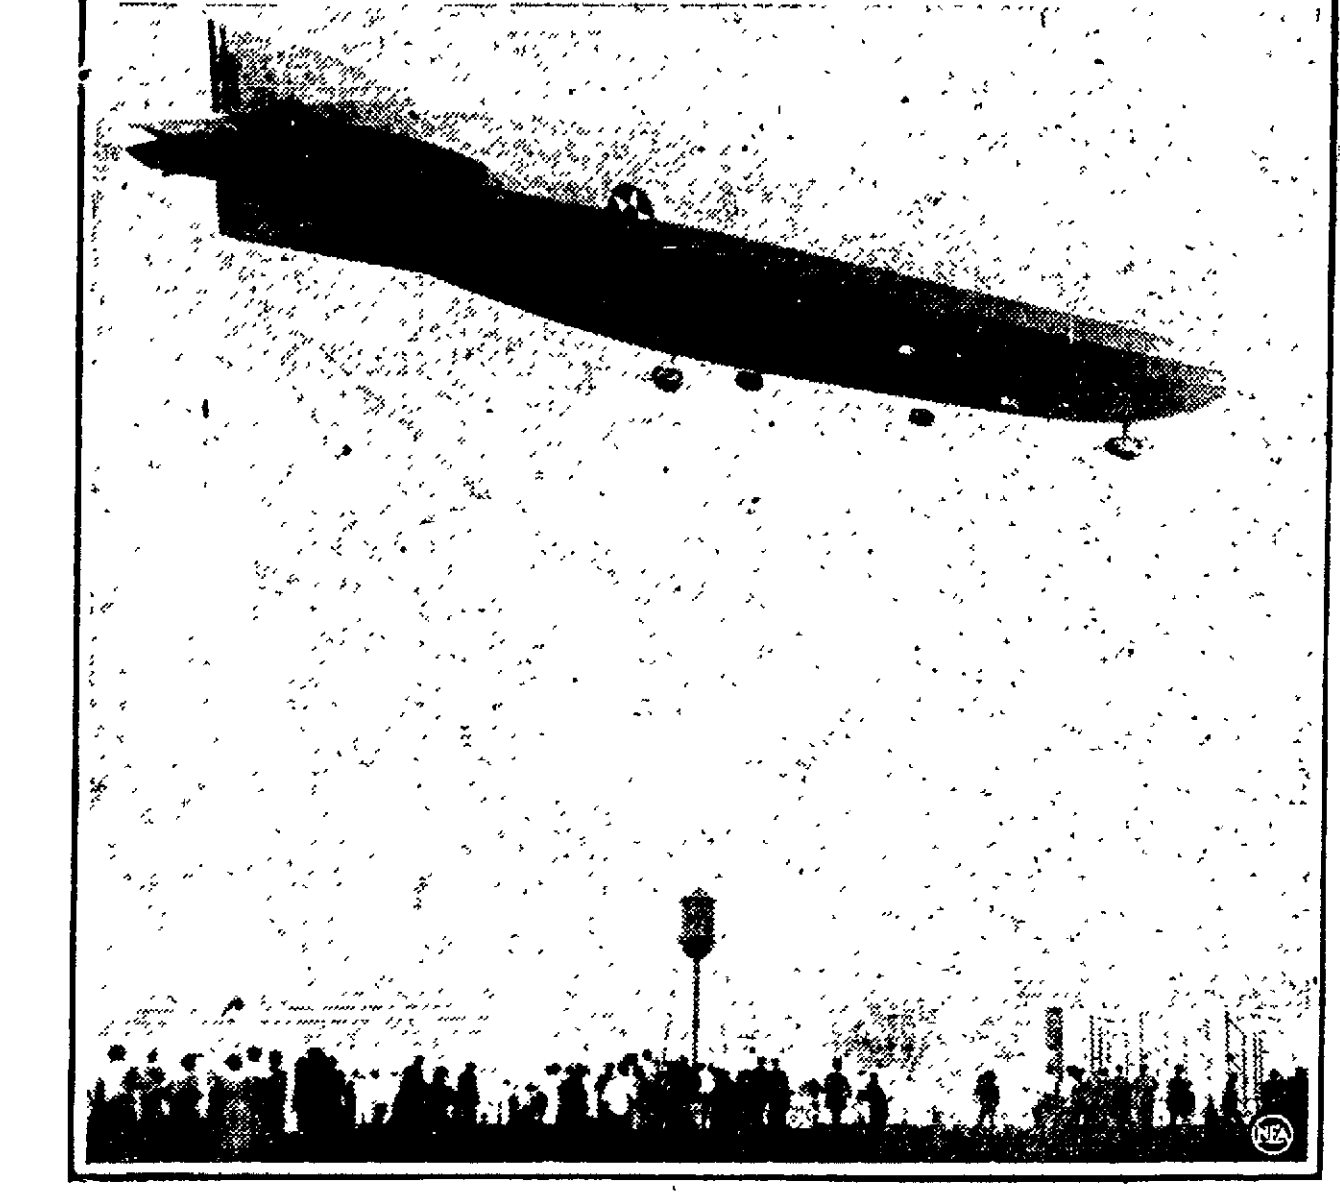

Bishop was being questioned regarding the signature on a card which Davis requires all persons renting automobiles from him to sign. Bishop denied that the signature was his. Upon further examination the accused stated that he could not write.

Mr. Gravelly, one of the jurors, intervened and told the court that Bishop could write that the man had traded with him and that he had on several occasions signed the card.

The trial paused there while dis-

The accident which occurred yesterday about eight miles this side of Greensboro when Sam Sonnenburg and Sam Coburn turned over in the former's Chevrolet machine, was a peculiar one. The two Danville men were on their way to witness the game in Greensboro. Mr. Sonnenburg was driving. The car was on the right side of the road. When the driver turned the steering in order to get in the middle of the road, the gear broke, the front wheels swung the machine crosswise the road and the car simply tumbled over. The selection of the Rutherford county, Tenn. and Athens, Ga., for the child health centers in the South. Dr. Garnett received a telegram yesterday from Dr. Ennion Williams, State Health Commissioner, expressing regret that Virginia had not been selected for the urban center because it is nearer the center of the South and that perhaps there were more united approval of the proposed center. He did not think that the financial element entered into the choice in any way or that a factor in the choice by Athens was the offer of the help. He was quite at loss to explain Danville's failure and reiterated his disappointment. Had Danville been chosen it would have meant the immediate employment here of a child specialist whose whole time would have been taken in conducting child clinics. A health teacher for the public schools, a statistician, a school dentist whose whole time would have been devoted to correcting dental deficiencies in the city schools and one or two additional city nurses, all of these to be supplied to the city free of charge to the community and as the first step towards an expansion of the scope of city health work. Dr. Garnett added that virtually the entire medical profession of the city had signed a paper approving of the proposed establishment here of a child center.

Powell Case May Be Heard Tuesday

Ben R. Powell of Gretna, alleged recipient of the now famous "Dear Ben" letters which were introduced in Congress in the recent Paul-Harrison election contest had taken no further steps this morning towards securing a warrant against F. D. Lumpkin, local postmaster who, Powell alleges, assaulted him in the postoffice yesterday evening. No warrant has been formally executed. It is true that Powell after the encounter went to police headquarters and asked Inspector Andrew Parkinson to fill out a warrant charging assault, but Powell failed to sign it and left the courthouse stating that he wished to see the commonwealth's attorney.

Powell, however, is said to have agreed to come back and to complete the necessary formalities in order that the case may be heard in the Police court next Tuesday morning.

Commonwealth's Attorney Carter said this morning that Powell had not discussed the matter with him at any length merely informing him in the courtroom yesterday evening that Lumpkin "had assaulted him." Mayor Wooding said today that he thought it likely that the case would be disposed of in the Federal court as appears from an investigation of the case between a postoffice attaché and a citizen is to be heard there. Mr. Carter, however, said that there was no reason why this should be done and that the Danville police officers have no jurisdiction in the matter. It is not by any means an invasion of Federal sovereignty for the Police court to have jurisdiction on Federal property.

Mr. Lumpkin last night admitted the encounter and stated that he had no intention of making any further statement. He said that for two years reports have been reaching him of remarks attributed to Powell against him and that he had warned him to desist from such utterances. Mr. Lumpkin said that they had continued and that yesterday was the first time he had seen Powell. The Gretna man, the postmaster declared, was going into Deputy Collector I. M. Clingenpeck's and seeing Powell he called him. Powell paid no attention to him and Lumpkin then laid hands on him and seized him by the collar and began shaking him. No blows appear to have been passed and Mr. Clingenpeck and Rufus Powell, son of B. R. Powell, who was present, succeeded in separating the combatants.

Mr. Powell ran from the postoffice calling "police," according to Assistant Postmaster J. G. Cassell who heard the noise. He then went to the police station and later headed this automobile and went back to Gretna. Efforts made to reach him today failed. It being reported that the telephone line from Chatham to Gretna was still down.

It has been known for some time that there was some personal feeling between the two men. Powell being so-called dispenser of Federal patronage in the Fifth Congressional district and leader of one faction in the Republican party while Mr. Lumpkin is a recognized leader of the other. Whether there was any relationship between the incident yesterday and the long sustained fight over the appointment of a permanent postmaster in Danville was largely a matter of conjecture. Mr. Lumpkin has been acting postmaster since the retirement of W. N. Brown, efforts to win his confirmation in the Senate being repeatedly blocked.

NO LEAGUE MEETING TODAY.
(By The Associated Press.)
GENEVA, Sept. 7.—The council of the League of Nations decided to hold no meeting today. It was agreed that the scheduled sessions of the assembly should be postponed. The postponing reason being a desire to avoid dangerous discussions at a plenary session of the delegates until the council has seen light to its duty in the Greco-Italian negotiations, and is able to make the necessary understanding which has arisen among the great powers regarding the Italian action will be dissipated.

"However," he said, "as I know the spirit of fairness in America I am certain that the necessary understanding which has arisen among the great powers regarding the Italian action will be dissipated."

FUTURE COURSE DEPENDS ON ITALY'S REPLY
(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Sept. 7.—The Inter-Allied Council of Ambassadors after a long session today adjourned this afternoon to await definite word whether Italy is prepared to accept the mediation of the Council in the present Greco-Italian dispute. All further discussions it was said, are contingent upon Italy's reply. During the session the ambassadors discussed the advisability of sending a commission to the scene of the massacre of the Italian mission to conduct an investigation and report upon the responsibility for the crime. The French government faction is attempting to settle the Italo-Greek question by every possible means before appeal is made to the League of Nations and thinks the Ambassadors' Council is the most authoritative body to deal with the crisis. It is stated in the authoritative circles. It is expressly pointed out that the French view embodies no implication of the League's incompetence but owing to the opinion expressed among smaller nations that the League's prestige would suffer should it fail to settle the question the French would keep the supreme test from the League and recommend it only as the last resort.

PARKING PROBLEM FOR VISITORS IS SOLVED BY RETAIL MERCHANTS

The Retail Merchants Association has found a means of rendering less trouble to visiting shoppers the local parking restrictions which have been complained of by a good many motorists. The plan is to place a number of signs throughout the city to indicate adequate parking facilities. The association has given in sight to the police department and has received a favorable response to the plan. The signs are to be placed in the hands of one of the city's men who are not intended to be used in any other way. The signs also bear the name of the Retail Merchants Association. HOME LIFE MENACED

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded women by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, all of which are perfectly justified if not abused and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and social life to take on outside duties often means the breaking point and home and family are often neglected for lack of strength or some ailment develops because of overwork. Weak and ailing women will do well to remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, and let it help them.—adv.

CHURCHES IN PLEA FOR "PLAY LIFE"

By Rev. J. Callaway Robertson
A strongly religious and every body parent, anxious for his child's body, that the child may have a normal and healthy life and growth; that his child's mind, that the child may take his proper place in a world of thinking people; and such a parent must also train his child's character religiously, that the world may become morally fit. Unless this is done, trained bodies and trained minds are of little use.

Until comparatively recently the agency engaged with the task of religious education has been the Sunday school, meeting every Sunday morning for a period of training covering about one hour. Even this one short period was often greatly reduced because of tardiness or various interruptions. For several years now it has been recognized that such a method afforded no opportunity for a real education program. The Protestant church is awakening to the tremendous possibilities in a comprehensive program of training minds may simply add to the destruction of the child's mind. We are recognizing the fact that "religious education is the enlargement of man's experience of God. It includes correct teaching about God, cultivating right feelings toward God, and securing right conduct as in the presence of God." No single subject is so largely commanding the attention of the Protestant leaders of America today as an adequate program of religious education. Many of the churches are employing a trained worker who gives his time to the direction of such a program. Noteworthy changes have come as a result of this awakening. Realizing the inadequacy of the time given to instruction on Sunday morning, the program is not confined to this period. An increasing number of churches over the country are giving their boys and girls definite religious training during the week. Several churches in Danville have adopted this program and are offering from three to five hours a week, in place of the single hour formerly given. There is a great change in the lesson materials used. No longer do we consider every subject in the Bible of equal power to the little child in the primary department and to his father or grandfather in the adult group. And yet for years the lesson material was covered in this way. Today most progressive churches have adopted literature which has been prepared by specialists in that particular field. This literature meets the needs of the period of life studying it. In addition to the splendid material in the Bible, we have the lives of Christian workers are presented to the hero loving boy and girl. In this way the pupil realizes, perhaps as never before, that God speaks to and walks with the children of the olden times. The little child is taught to see God in the objects which are familiar to him—the flowers, the trees, the rain. The Sunday schools have been carefully graded and grouped in accordance with the same principles, which govern the public school life. The modern Sunday school is now housed in a building thoroughly adapted to the new program, which provides for graded worship, graded instruction and graded activities. In erecting modern buildings of worship some congregations of today are first building an adequate house for the church school activities, this also being used for the worship service. Then, as time and financial permit, there is erected the building for the regular church services.

Every effort is being made by our boards of education to select a group of public school teachers who are thoroughly equipped for the task before them. Should the teachers in our church schools be selected with less care? Is the religious education of less importance than the secular education of the child? The Sunday school teacher of today must be first of all a follower of the Master. In addition he must understand his pupil; he must know and use proper teaching methods; he must know the material he is to teach; he must be able to make his teaching a part of the child's life. We may be better prepared for our duty as religious teachers, training schools are being conducted over the country. This is done by the individual church, or several churches will combine in such an effort. As a result about 1,000,000 students were under training last year in the Southern Methodist church alone.

The church has recently come to appreciate the almost limitless possibilities for character-making in play and is making extensive use of recreational programs not only for purposes of pastime but also for purposes of definite religious training. We may talk at length of fair play to the boy or girl, but it is the same that he really learns it and makes it a part of his life. In the same he learns and practices co-operation; he learns to be a gracious winner and a good loser. People must play. Realizing this to be inevitable, commercialism is ever ready to provide for this desire. What stand is the church taking toward the play-life? Play afternoons for the children and play nights for the young people are being conducted in many churches today. The play always being under supervision. "Recreation is recreation, or a re-reshing of the soul in the image of God wherein it was created."

MRS. C. C. DUPREE PASSES AWAY IN SANFORD, FLA.

Mrs. C. W. Dodson received a telegram last night from Sanford, Fla., stating that her mother, Mrs. Cornelia Conway Dupree, had passed away. Mrs. Dupree who had just passed her eightieth birthday, had a stroke of paralysis last Saturday from which she did not recover.

Mrs. Dupree was born in the vicinity of Danville and lived her many years. She was a daughter of James L. Conway and a sister of the late L. B. Conway of this city. For the past several years she has been making her home in Los Angeles, California. She came East last Fall to spend the Winter with her son in Florida. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. M. H. Truitt, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. H. H. Rogers, Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. C. W. Dodson, Danville; Mr. Dupree, Sanford, Fla.; T. I. Dupree, Waverly, Ga.; and W. F. Dupree, Roanoke.

CROP CONDITIONS IN OLD DOMINION

The week was very favorable for the maturing of corn and tobacco, and both of these crops are in excellent condition and cutting and curing of the latter crop has begun. The rainfall of the week was light, but there was sufficient moisture in the soil and pastures and meadows have continued to grow to excellent condition. Alfalfa and other truck crops are plentiful and generally of good quality. Sweet potatoes and pumpkins are good and a fair crop of apples of excellent quality is in prospect. Plowing has continued under favorable conditions and early grain is coming up in good stand.

BY BOB DORMAN (Special to The Bee.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A dingy tramp steamer slid into dock at Staten Island. From her stern floated the "Rising Sun" emblem of Japan. Her deck was noisy with the laughter of little men. "Look! How they laugh!" said someone on the dock, vastly surprised. "They are fatalists," another said grimly. "They can laugh at earthquakes and death." But those laughing Japanese on the rusty tramp knew nothing of the great calamity. They were happy because they had reached the turning point of a long voyage; soon they would be sailing back home, to wives, sweethearts and parents. Very suddenly the noise on deck lessened. The laughter quieted and died out. Then a still among the small men, and deep silence. Officers were gravely reading the foreign newspapers with their queer marks, headlines big and black, that

STUDENT BODY AT AVERETT IS INTERESTING ONE

Averett College will have an unusually interesting student body this year. President Craft has reserved rooms for students from the following states: Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Alabama, Michigan, Mississippi, Arkansas, Kansas, and Illinois. Virginia, of course, heads the list in sending the largest quota. North Carolina sends six, and New York five. Twelve students come from Pittsylvania County. These come from Danville, Altaville, Java, Dry Fork, Keokuk, Astoria, and Kingsport. Chatham Hall County also has a large representation. Eight non-resident ministers are sending their daughters to the college. The enrollment is already nearly one-third larger than the total enrollment of last year. A large percentage of the old students are returning.

Club presidents, secretaries and other officials from all parts of the country, representing more than 400,000 motorists, are expected to attend the meeting. FAMOUS NOVEL SCREENED

The screen version of A. S. M. Hutchinson's famous novel "If Winter Comes" was shown at the Majestic theatre yesterday for the first time in Danville. The picture play was made for the most part in England in order to profit by the local atmosphere of the novel. It is as nearly as possible the same impression as that given on reading the book. A multiple reel picture, it does not go far away from the printed text and the climatic scenes are quite as engaging and create just as much interest as the novel itself. The characters appearing in the cast are new and there is some clever acting. Particularly gripping is the court scene when Mark Sabre suspected of being responsible for the death of his fiancée, is compelled to testify at the coroner's inquest. There is of course the love motif running through the picture and some effective wartime scenes. The film is a Fox production.

J. S. Harvey, Jr., Is Made Commander

At the stated convocation of the Commandery No. 7, Knights Templar, in its assembly in the Masonic Temple last night, Eminent Ben W. Temple, Jr., presiding, elected J. S. Harvey, Jr., as commander, giving a brief review of his stewardship and of the development of this Masonic body during the past year. Thereafter the commandery elected its officers for the ensuing year, selecting J. Shields Harvey, who had just closed his year as captain general as eminent commander for the ensuing year. The full roster of officers was then elected and then they were installed. Right Eminent W. C. Wooding, grand junior warden of the Grand commandery of Virginia, presiding.

Owing to the removal from the State of the generalissimo, the next ranking logical man for advancement to the commandery. This necessitated jumps of line officers below that of commander. This is the roster of officers elected and installed last night: Eminent Commander, J. Shields Harvey, Jr.; Generalissimo, Eugene H. Marshall; Captain General, M. Guy Shuff; Treasurer, E. G. Anderson (re-elected); Recorder, D. H. Penn (re-elected); Preceptor, Rev. J. Clyde Holland (re-elected); Senior Warden, J. Burton Reed; Junior Warden, Henry Rodiger; Standard-bearer, Robert N. Harper; Sword-bearer, J. B. Ruffin, Jr.; Wastor, L. Moses Sentinel; W. McKee; Guards, R. B. Davis, J. W. Squires and D. P. Garvin.

Dr. Robert N. Harper, who had done excellent work as chairman of the Attendance committee during the year just closed, was re-appointed by the new commandery. The commandery received an invitation from the blue lodge at South Boston to attend and act as escort for that body and the Grand lodge Masonic officers on the occasion of laying the corner-stone of a new church now building there and conditionally accepted. Several new petitions were received by the commandery, and the prospect now is for a busy fall and winter. During the administration of Commander Beach nearly fifty have been knighted, and this has meant a busy time for the commandery and the commandery. The total membership is now about 350.

ANGEL OF MERCY WAS WATCHING

This American hospital in Yokohama, situated on a bluff, was one of the few buildings in the city to escape the wrath of the earthquake and fire that destroyed millions of dollars in property and took a terrific number of lives.

This Little World

By MILTON BRONNER

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Since August 12 London society has been in Scotland hunting grouse, which costs a pretty penny. In fact, grouse shooting is the most expensive sport in Great Britain.

The charge is one guinea for each brace of LIVE grouse. It's up to you to make dead grouse of them, if you and your guests can.

Thus, if a moor is estimated to contain 1000 brace of grouse, the rental is 1000 guineas, or something over $5000 for a week's hunting.

Of course a house and keepers are thrown in, but by the time the food is paid for and the incidentals settled up, the best part of $10,000 has been consumed.

Then the flood starts. Every hunter remembers his more unfortunate brethren in town. The express cars from Scotland are filled with grouse. And the hotels and restaurants offer you grouse—very high both in smell and price—until you are sick of the very name.

Here is a Coolidge yarn by way of Paris: When the president was governor of Massachusetts, a Boston reporter got the promise of an interview. He was told to bring his questions in writing. He did so—22 of them. Coolidge told him to come the next day.

At the appointed hour Coolidge came to the office and said: "I have 22 questions really boil down to three. To the first two the answer is 'Yes.' To the last, the answer is 'No.'"

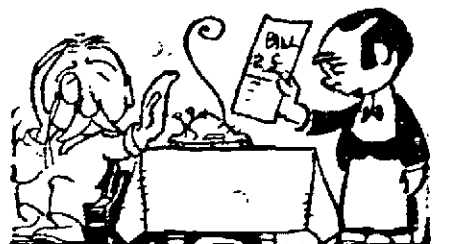

OW! P.S.—T. RIPPING

"But, governor, won't you say more than that?" exclaimed the newspaper man again.

"What's the use? You've got enough for 3000 words. Why should I say them?"

A quaint story comes from Lincoln, seat of the famous cathedral. The electric light plant of the place was overrun with mice. They invaded the transformers, twisted up the wires, even gnawed the rubber insulation off the machinery. One night they managed to plunge the town into darkness.

A cat with a good mousing record was obtained. She was successful.

until one night in hunting a particularly agile rodent, the cat came into contact with a live wire, got 6000 volts and gave up the ghost. As a tribute to the faithful beast the plant manager had all the lights in the town put out for 15 seconds.

It may be a canard. Maybe not. But they claim that recently the steward of a British ship tantalized a bunch of very wet, or rather would-be-wet, American passengers by this cruel parody on a well-known American saying:

"Oh, yes, we have no Martinis. We have no Martinis today. No whisky, no sherry. No Manhattan with cherry. But all kinds of soft drinks. And say, we've got some nice lemon squashes. And other mixtures and splashes. But, yes, we have no Martinis. We have no Martinis today."

JAPANESE EARTHQUAKE IS GREATEST CALAMITY THAT HAS HAPPENED IN YEARS

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The appalling nature of the Japanese earthquake and tidal waves with the greatest loss of life and property of any similar catastrophe in modern times continues to be told by meagre and unconnected press dispatches and private messages from survivors and agents and tourists who survived the phantasmagoria but Europe still awaits the graphic story of how the earth shook to pieces and then consumed in flames Japan's capital and scores of towns around Tokyo bay, including the great commercial port of Yokohama.

The loss of life is estimated at such varying figures, in some cases running into hundreds of thousands, that any certainty of the casualties is impossible while communications with the devastated districts remain as they are.

On the whole, the news received today is of a more hopeful nature than any since the disaster, one authoritative message from a British naval official at Yokohama placing the deaths of foreigners in that port at 70. Even this number of dead which is small as compared with first reports is large for a foreign colony of a few thousands and indicates that the loss of life among the native population may reach the highest reported figures.

The only official estimate is based on home office information from Tokyo that the loss of life there was 30,000, but Yokohama is known to have suffered much more severely than the capital city, and the home office figures do not attempt to take into consideration the one hundred miles of coast line towns and villages, all in the path of the tidal waves.

All available information shows that Tokyo and Yokohama were not totally destroyed, the foreign residential district of the port city which is on a high bluff overlooking the bay, having suffered comparatively little damage, while the residential suburban districts of Tokyo also escaped. This would account for the few deaths among the foreigners there, for on Saturday afternoon few would have been in their offices.

The destruction of Tokyo extends over two-thirds of the metropolitan district of fifteen wards, with the low lying districts completely wiped out. These include the slums of Fukagawa, the industrial section of Honjo, both on the right bank of the Sagami river. Asakusa, famous for its amusement parks, Kyokashi and Nishonashi, which include most of modern Tokyo where four or five storied department stores and office buildings lined the principal thoroughfares, the district also includes Tsukiji in which before Japan was completely opened to the western nations, foreigners were compelled to reside. It recently had been occupied principally by missionaries, the schools and hospitals. During the summer most of Tsukiji residents at the edge of the city but the loss of property there has been great.

In other stations of Tokyo—Azabu, Shiba, Akasaka, Yotsuya and Ushikawa, where the foreigners live in more or less isolated foreign compounds consisting of a few western style houses built on small hills, the damage was by fire, which on account of the number of open spaces could be controlled. The foreign embassies and legations were widely scattered throughout the higher districts of Tokyo, and a number of them, including the American embassy have been destroyed.

The British foreign office tonight received its first news from its representatives in Japan in a message reporting that all the embassy staff were safe, but that the building was uninhabitable, necessitating rebuilding.

Other messages received by the London agents of Japanese companies state that Tokyo's skyscraper district suffered destruction. It is known as Marunouchi and is situated between the central railway station and the imperial palace. It consists of great blocks of reinforced concrete buildings which were at first reported to be a mass of ruins. They withstood the shock, and the extensive station plaza saved them from flames.

In the Mitsubishi building, which is one of the structures, is temporarily housed the famous Morrison Library, which is awaiting the completion of the permanent library building of the Imperial University. The fire which swept the eastern and central sections of Tokyo after the quake, was halted at the railway yards and the outer palace moat; thus the Tokyo central station, many government buildings and the new hotel, a low structure with architectural lines like an oriental temple and considered by the Chicago architect, who planned and built it to be quake proof, escaped damage.

Refugees continue to flee from the Tokyo and Yokohama districts. 860 of them, mostly foreigners, arriving at Kobe on the steamer London Maru. Kobe is the center from which worldwide foreign relief work is being directed, under an international committee, and the responses for supplies are considered fully adequate to meet the needs.

Africa, India, China and Russia, as well as the United States and England have begun active measures for aid. Lord Reading headed the Indian subscriptions. South Africa will dispatch by the first boat five thousand bags of maize. Hong Kong is sending money and ship loads of meat, and even the Chinese war lord Tsao Kun, has contributed from his chest and also intends to aid Chinese residents and students in Japan.

Accounts appearing in the Nakasaka and Kobe newspapers of the foreign relief work have created a profound impression on the Japanese public.

A central news dispatch from Kobe, dated today, says: "It is reported here but not confirmed, that cholera has broken out in Yokohama. This probably is true, since the people are drinking muddy water from ditches and eating foul food to stave off starvation. A spread of pestilence would increase the difficulties of relief work as otherwise supplying food and shelter would be comparatively easy."

3 AMERICANS REPORTED MISSING FOUND SAFE IWAKI, Sept. 6.—(By Radio.) Col. Samuel Reber, of New York and Major William C. Crane, Jr., language officer of the American embassy, and Mrs. Green, all previously reported missing at Tokyo, are safe, it was learned today.

Three Men Burned To Death In Fire After Explosion

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 6.—Three men and a boy were killed and twenty seven persons were injured, fifteen probably fatally, by an explosion of thousands of cases of smokeless powder which were being transferred from barges to freight cars on the banks of the Raritan river.

The explosion, caused by a cooking fire on one of the barges, rocked the entire countryside, blew automobiles upside down on the road near-by, and enveloped everyone within a hundred yards in a sheet of flame.

Two men killed were Winston Taylor and William French, of Newark. The third was unidentified. The boy was blown into the river. His body has not been recovered.

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 6.—Two men are known to have been burned to death and several others were seriously injured in an explosion of large quantities of black powder which was being transferred from box cars of the Columbia Salvage Company to barges in the Raritan river late today. Police officials feared other lives have been lost.

A second explosion, which illuminated towns for miles around, blew the cars to pieces and timbers were scattered for hundreds of feet, endangering the lives of all in the neighborhood. Other box cars which immediately caught fire were blown up to locomotives and rushed flaming through the heart of the city, to get them away from the powder supply which had already been loaded on barges.

The entire fire department of South Amboy rushed to the scene and calls were sent to nearby cities for additional apparatus. Just before the engines arrived several other box cars of powder exploded, bringing the total number to six. The pier and two of the barges were completely over and their occupants thrown to the ground, several of them said to be seriously injured. Ambulances carried the injured to hospitals, where it was said many might not recover.

In all twenty persons were taken to the hospital. One died shortly after arrival. At least one other was expected to die within a short time, and a dozen were said to be in a dangerous condition. Winston Taylor, of Newark, the first man who lost his life, was burned to death by the first explosion. The yards, the property of the Pennsylvania railroad.

All those who were taken to hospital had been sitting in automobile under a railroad bridge, having stopped to watch the first unaware of the fact that the burning cars contained explosives. Without warning 2 cars on the bridge above them suddenly blew to pieces with a terrific roar, the automobiles were thrown from the road and their occupants scattered helter-skelter among falling fragments of the box cars. They were immediately enveloped in flames. Two children were among those in the hospital.

Co-Op Concerns Are Tax Exempt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Proportionate distribution of the proceeds of the sales of their products to the members of co-operative associations was declared by the internal revenue bureau today to be the only method by which the income of such associations is made tax exempt, the bureau's findings were announced in a final decision amending previous income tax regulations.

The new regulations provide that co-operative associations acting as sales agents for farmers, fruit growers, live stock growers, dairy men and others, or engaged in the marketing of farm products and turning back to the producers the proceeds of the sales on a pro-rata basis, are exempt from income tax and shall not be required to file returns.

"If the proceeds of the business are distributed in any other way than on such a proportionate basis," the regulation continued, "the association does not meet the requirement of the statute and is not exempt. The accumulation and maintenance of a reasonable reserve for depreciation or possible losses, or a reserve required by state law, or a sinking fund or surplus to provide for the erection of buildings and facilities, will not destroy the exemption."

The regulation makes it clear than in every case the association will be required to show that the ownership of the stock has been restricted to producers.

The regulation extends the same tax exemption to co-operatives which operate as purchasing agencies for organized producers, allowing them all privileges extended to the associations engaged only in selling.

THREE DISTINCT SHOCKS (By The Associated Press.) MANILA, Sept. 6.—Three distinct earthquake shocks were felt here this morning between 8 and 9 o'clock. The government observatory stated they were due to distant tremblers probably in Japan.

FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO RICHARD SUMMERS

What is the matter? Are you ill? It has been three weeks since I heard from you. Wire me. BEE.

WIRE FROM RICHARD SUMMERS TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW

Am perfectly all right except I am a bit busy. I think I have been somewhat neglectful. Letter in mail. DICK.

LETTER FROM RICHARD SUMMERS TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW

MY DEAR BEE:

I had no idea that the time had passed so quickly until I got your wire. The truth of the matter is, that I am busy from early morning until late at night with this work. I have seen so many places where I could apply business methods to moving pictures since I have been out here that I tell you I have been jumping. First, to get the "prowers" back to see my methods and second, to put them in practice in a way that will insure their success.

Bee, this business in which I am now engaged is the most fascinating in all the world, perhaps because it is the greatest gamble. You stand to win or lose millions on a big picture and no one seems to be able to guess with any degree of surety whether a picture will be a success or not until it has been passed upon by the great amusement-loving public.

Everybody works upon their nerves, holding them so tight that they are ready to snap at any moment. It is here you hear the wildest stories; see the meanest as well as the most generous acts. It is here where gossip flows like a Niagara; where jealousy stalks; where people

I offer you friendship and stab you in the back. And yet it is here where willing and kindly hands are extended to help you on your way; where the most generous speeches are made as to your ability; where you make friends in an hour that will last a lifetime.

In short, this Hollywood that they talk about, is a reality of greater and more dramatic contrasts than ever have been placed upon the screen.

I have gotten into the very spirit of it, Bee, which is very far from the everyday monotony of my life as it was back home. You will forgive me, won't you, dear, if I say that at times even you seem rather remote, vague and unreal.

I would not write you this, dear Bee, if I did not know of your understanding. Yet all the while I am wondering what you will think of this bustling, hard-working, hard-playing, maelstrom of nerves and emotionalism.

I don't believe you will like it and yet I cannot tell, for since I have come here those whom I liked best have been most unkind and those whom I thought brusque and unkind, have proved the truest friends.

I did not intend to write you such a letter as this, dear, but your wire this morning caught me unawares and my thoughts have been just surging through my pen. In a day or two I'll sit down and write you a newsy letter.

Just remember, however, that financially and commercially everything is going on splendidly. Personally though, I am rather up in the air. DICK.

TOMORROW: A letter from Dick to Bee—with an enclosure—Paula Perier a movie star.

Your Health

BY DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

SUMMER COLDS

A summer cold is the same as any other cold with a little different setting. It is a sure sign of some kind of weakness in your condition. The change from normal condition, which may have been brought on by carelessness, allows the micro-organisms, which are always prevalent, to have their poisons more rapidly absorbed. They are always on the job and waiting for a chance.

The nerve centers, which control the circulation of blood in the skin, are very sensitive and show a quick reaction to exposure or fatigue. If you have ever exerted yourself in golf, tennis or rowing, and then taken a rest in a draft or under had conditions, you have opened the way to attack.

Or if you have been careless in your summer eating, loss of rest, had ventilation or continued constipation, you have let down the bars to a summer cold. There is no help for it but to take precautions and be sensible.

The Cure.

After a summer cold has been actually caught, and one can usually be quite sure of that condition when it occurs, every effort should be made to get back to normalcy. Do not treat a summer cold lightly. Do not treat a summer cold lightly. It is a real infection and every effort should be made at once in its behalf.

A hot bath should be taken at once. This may be aided by a hot drink. The purpose, of course, is a good sweat for an hour or possibly two. Be very careful to sponge off after this sweat and continue your rest in bed.

If your headache, fever and sneezing do not yield to the treatment, continue your rest, stay in bed and be happy.

Precautions.

It is best to avoid any excessive eating during this period. It is even wise to fast for a day, taking nothing but water.

Be sure to avoid alcohol in any form or heavy doses of quinine, as well as all other quick remedies.

Do not associate with the rest of the family for awhile and be careful that all articles and utensils are thoroughly cleaned before using. Summer colds are given to others by contact, so save your friends from any such trouble by isolation and careful habits until well.

PRINCE OF WALES SAILS FOR CANADA

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Prince of Wales, traveling under the name of Lord Renfrew, sailed on the Empress of Canada today for Canada to spend a vacation on his ranch in Alberta.

The Prince drove to Waterloo station in a private carriage accompanied only by a small group. He passed almost unnoticed at the station. He has a suite of rooms amidships, but will dine in the main saloon with the other passengers. He expressed a desire to be treated as an ordinary passenger.

The Prince's trip is purely a private one and he has decided to make no public engagements during his absence from England.

It is recalled that the Prince's grand father, the late King Edward spent some time hunting in the vicinity of Dwight, Illinois, no far from Chicago, under the name Lord Renfrew. A park in Dwight is called Renfrew Park, in honor of the visit.

SMOOT NOW PROPOSES TAX ON EXTRAVAGANCE

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 1.—A tax on luxuries and extravagant purchases is the purpose of an "expenditure tax" which is being prepared by United States Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, and which will be presented to the next session of Congress as a substitute for the proposed sales tax, according to announcement by the Senator here today.

Senator Smoot said that all farmers' sales up to $6000 would be exempt. Cheap commodities such as a $3.50 pair of shoes or an inexpensive automobile would not be taxed, under the proposed legislation but expensive purchases such as a $2500 automobile, or a $750 pair of shoes, will be taxable at the rate of 1.2 per cent.

"The sales tax, which caused considerable debate at the last session of Congress, will not be revived," Senator Smoot said.

Pinchot Partly Succeeds in Plan To Secure Peace

(By The Associated Press.)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 6.—All of the principal barriers to a settlement of the controversy which has shut down the anthracite mines have been set aside by agreement between the miners and operators, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania announced tonight, with the exception of the union demand for increase in pay greater than ten per cent. for day workers in the field and the further system of collecting union dues.

John L. Lewis, president of the miners' union, tonight called a formal meeting of the union's scale committee to be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow to pass judgment on the situation. Both union officials and representatives of the mine operators agreed to meet Governor Pinchot again at three p. m. tomorrow for further negotiations.

After another series of conferences this afternoon with Governor Pinchot, representatives of the anthracite coal operators and miners' union officials considering proposals for settlement of the differences between them, recessed shortly after six o'clock tonight, until three p. m. tomorrow.

Governor Pinchot announced immediately after adjournment that later in the evening he would issue a comprehensive statement of the situation. Leaders of the opposing forces indicated there was little change in the status of negotiations.

Governor Pinchot's protracted attempt to bring operators and miners to an agreement upon the four points which he tendered as a basis of settlement of the difficulty, had been successful in part, he announced at the conclusion of executive sessions with them today. He gave out a summary of the situation, upon which Mr. Lewis would make no comment but which S. D. Warriner, chairman of the operators' policy committee, declared to be acceptable. In it the operators were represented to have left out all the demands for arbitration of wage scale.

The governor's original settlement proposal, he pointed out, had involved the destruction of the eight-hour day, full recognition of the union by the operators, a uniform increase of ten per cent. for all employees, and the recognition of collective bargaining in the industry.

"The operators authorized me to say for them that they are in accord with the four points as interpreted

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Liverpool advanced 40 American points, but has since lost 30. At 1470 October is 330 points over our closing. Heaviest speculative buying of the season has occurred the past 48 hours, rushing prices up pretty rapidly. This means that we are likely to have wider fluctuations and better opportunities to trade.

Some of the big local operators are heavily long and this, with the increased offerings from the South, can start a reaction any moment. The situation itself is unchanged and we would take advantage of any setback to buy cotton.

FRANCISCO VILLA DIE RICH

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 6.—Had not the bullets of unknown assassins cut short the life of Francisco Villa at Parral on July 20, the former bandit leader had been one of the greatest landholders of the republic. In addition to the huge ranch at Canutillo, Durango, which the government ceded to Villa and his followers, another rich property, the Puéblito hacienda, south of Chihuahua, had been added to his holdings by the government.

Villa was also on the point of being given control of the San Pedro ranch, situated in the Jimenez district of Chihuahua, and the Cartena property, in northern Durango.

MONKEY "SHINES" ENTERTAIN CROWD

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—When a monkey gets on a rope he must go either up or down. Clarence discovered today. Clarence is a male monkey with red hair and is en route from Germany to Oregon. He escaped from a crate when they were going to send him west and entertained Cooper Square for an hour this afternoon in the single matinee of his Metropolitan career.

Clarence balanced on the ledge of the Browning King Building where he climbed by telephone wires from a pet store. Here he camped on the ledge and watched his pursuers. More than 100 factory hands gathered about him and police were required to force back the crowd below.

An employee swung a rope toward Clarence and he grabbed it and was jerked clear of the ledge. After he climbed down he jumped into the crowd and scampered to Seventh street and Third avenue before he could be lassoed.

MANTUA, N. A 26-foot tower has been erected in a new location, a new franchise has been granted for an extended period to the township committee, and plenty of water with good pressure is promised within a fortnight.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF SUN'S CORONA TO FEATURE ECLIPSE

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Photographs of the mysterious outer envelope of the sun, the corona, will be made with the horizontal telescope, 50 feet long, will be one of the chief features attempted by the expedition sent from Yerkes Observatory by the University of Chicago to observe the total eclipse of the sun from Santa Catalina island off the coast of Los Angeles, September 10, according to announcement by Edwin B. Frost, director of the observatory who will direct the expedition.

A total eclipse affords the only opportunity which the instruments of this planet have for observing the corona, Prof. Frost explained. The corona is the circle of light seen around the sun during a total eclipse. It is not known whether it rotates with the sun, as it turns about its axis in 25 days. To test this, a special photograph has been adapted and will be operated by Prof. Philip Fox, director of the Dearborn Observatory of Evanston, Ill. The telescope lens used will be the 12-inch photographic objective belonging to the Yerkes Observatory, recording light from a second mirror on the polar axis, or coelostat.

So far as is known, Prof. Frost said, no successful and thoroughly scientific film of the various phases of a total solar eclipse ever has been obtained.

At the Camp Wrigley station of the Yerkes Observatory, 1,200 feet above the sea and about three miles from the town of Avalon, the total phase will last for two minutes and forty-nine seconds, beginning at 12:54 p. m. Pacific standard time, Sept. 10.

"The size and shape of the corona," Prof. Frost declared, "varies from one eclipse to another, apparently changing with the eleven-year cycle of the sun's activity. At present the sun is approaching its state of minimum activity, sun-spots being now very rare and small and the eruptions or prominences seen with the spectroscopic at the sun's edge are few and comparatively low. This means that they are not often seen this year rising to a height of over 40,000 or 50,000 miles! We shall expect the corona to extend chiefly in the east and west directions at this time, perhaps for two or three diameters of the sun. There are generally interesting streamers issuing from the poles of the sun, suggesting the aurora borealis and implying an electro-magnetic origin.

"Photographs of the corona on a large scale will be made by Prof. O. J. Lee. The horizontal telescope will be used to receive the sun's rays from a plane mirror carried on a polar axis which is driven by a clockwork so that it follows the sun. The sun's diameter is 7 inches on photographs taken with this instrument.

"A part of the light of the corona is proved by the spectroscopic to be due to an unknown gas to which the name coronium has been given. It has not yet been found on earth or in any other star than the sun.

"The region of the sky in which the sun is situated on any particular date is beyond the reach of astronomers for a period of several weeks, because of the brightness of the day. We do not know what has happened in that part of the sky, or in the immediate vicinity of the sun. Perhaps some comet has been circulating near the sun, or out beyond among the stars, some new object of great interest may have developed. For the few moments of a total eclipse, the sky is pitch dark and we are able to photograph the region of the sun and that part of the starry sky beyond it. This must always be done, on the chances of finding something interesting that would otherwise be lost.

Several cameras will be used for this specific purpose at the Yerkes party. In 1933, when the photographs were developed, a faint comet was found near the sun, never seen before or after. In 1928, on the very day of the eclipse, but in the evening sky, a faint star flashed out in an increase of forty thousand fold in its brightness. It was as wonderful a spectacle as the eclipse itself, being for a few hours the brightest star in the northern sky. If such an outburst should occur in that part of the sky beyond the sun, we should never know of it except on photographs taken at an eclipse.

"Weather indications at the station at Catalina have been favorable during the month of September in the past and thus far in August have been very promising."

KILLS MOVE TO RELEASE GANDHI

SIMLA, India, Sept. 6.—A resolution calling for the early release of Mahatma Gandhi and other political prisoners was defeated after a heated debate in the national Legislative Assembly in its present session here.

Seshagiri Iyer, speaking in behalf of the resolution, gave a brief history of the political movement in India, beginning with the inception of the National Congress in 1885. The European war, he said, gave an impetus to democratic ideas, which was supplemented by the announcement made in Parliament in 1917 that the British government intended to introduce legislation for the "gradual development of self-governing institutions," and the "progressive realization of responsible government." Mr. Iyer pleaded that "honest and sincere patriots who chose the role of non-cooperators for what they believed to be the service of the country and who single-mindedly devoted themselves to that service should not be allowed to rot in jails."

Sir Malcolm Hailey, representing the administration, opposed the motion, saying: "Heaven knows that I wish to keep no man in prison longer than it is necessary to satisfy the claims of justice and the interests of peace. I have no animus against any of these misguided prisoners. I would guard the place of contentment in India. I believe that one thing should have to fear if they are released is the recurrence of that spread the rich which characterized India during the last two years."

The resolution was lost by a vote of 49 to 22.

FEDERAL PROBE OF MARTIAL LAW IN TULSA ASKED

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 6.—A federal investigation into the use of martial law in the Oklahoma national guard in enforcing Governor Walton's proclamation of martial law in Tulsa county was asked to lay by representative E. R. Howard of the first Oklahoma district in a program to Secretary of War Weeks.

Congressman Howard said he was acting as a representative of his constituents, some of whom were represented in a delegation of leading citizens who called upon him to day and urged that his influence be brought to bear to prevent what he termed Governor Walton's "unauthorized and unauthorized" use of the militia.

COTTON LOSS BY BOLL WEEVIL IS THIRD OF CROP

ABERDEEN, N. C., Sept. 6.—"The loss in cotton due to the boll weevil will average at least one-third of the crop, in the southern and southeastern tier of counties of the state," says a statement issued today by Dr. W. L. Leiby, entomologist in charge of the boll weevil field station and laboratory supported here by the North Carolina State College and the Department of Agriculture. Dr. Leiby recently made a trip through the heavily infested counties of Hoke, Robeson, Scotland, Moore and Richmond counties, of North Carolina, and into South Carolina, for the purpose of ascertaining the degree of injury and to learn to what extent the weevil was being controlled.

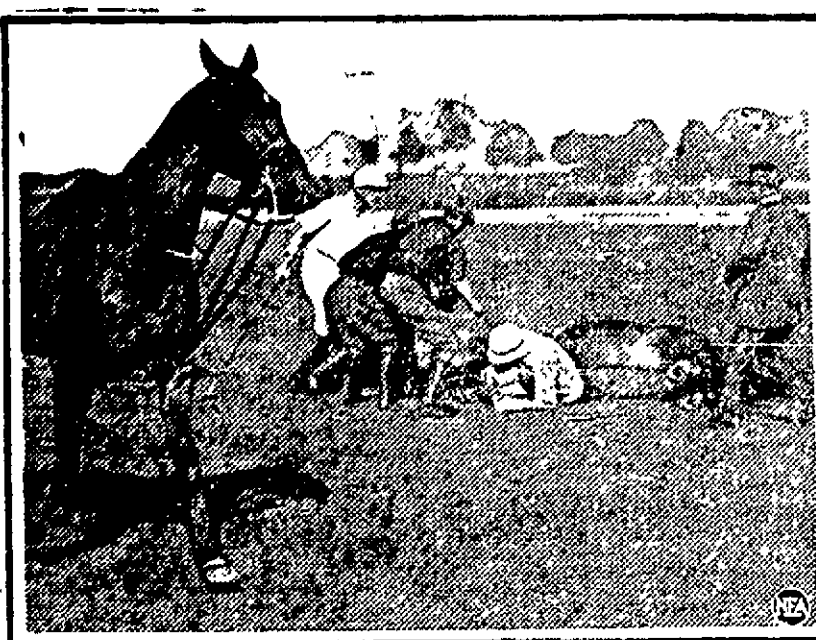

He reported he found that the injury varies considerably in different fields, some fields of early cotton where a good stand was secured resulting with a loss of about 20 percent of the crop, while other fields, particularly those which had to be replanted or were planted late, will show a loss of 30 to 70 percent of the crop.

"These estimates of losses," said Dr. Leiby in his statement, "are based on weevil injury or rot following weevil injury, and are aside from any losses due to abnormal shedding experienced in some restricted regions. The estimates also are conservative, as many farmers placed the weevil injury higher than entomologists did, while only a few planters estimated their injuries at lower percentages than those fixed by entomologists."

Until August 10, entomologists here say, damage caused by the boll weevil was considered almost negligible, but about that time a very rapid multiplication of the weevils took place, due largely to the wet climatic conditions of the latter part of July and the early part of August. She averaged about 1,100 feet altitude.

Z. R.-I. COMPLETES SECOND FLIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

LAKEHURST, N. J., Sept. 6.—After cruising an hour and 20 minutes above the United States naval air station here tonight, the naval airship Z. R.-I. successfully completed its second trial flight, touching the ground at 7:40 with every wire and stay in ship shape condition.

All six engines were tried during the flight.

Throughout the flight the Z. R.-I. averaged about 50 miles an hour, although her engines were running no more than half speed. It is not known just how much speed the great balloon is capable of and she will not be tested to her limit for some time to come.

Commander Weybacker declared that the second flight had been even more successful than the first, with the airship and her crew both working more smoothly. He said that during the next few days minor adjustments and repairs will be made and that the giant balloon would be ready for further flights early next week.

Commander Weybacker was particularly pleased with the ease and rapidly with which the Z. R.-I. was stored in her hangar. In less than half an hour from the moment she touched the ground the huge balloon had been put into her shed without a hitch. During the flight, he said, the ship was steady and under perfect control. She averaged about 1,100 feet altitude.

SWITCHMEN WILL DEMAND A RAISE

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—General Chairman of the Switchmen's union of North America, in session here today, voted to demand an increase in switchmen's wages amounting to 25 percent over the present rate of pay. This, according to a statement by T. C. Cashion, president of the organization, if granted, bring switchmen's wages up to the level demanded in 1929. The restoration of the differential between night and day work also is to be asked.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen general chairman, who also are considering the formulation of new wage demands, were in executive session tonight and will report tomorrow.

Mr. Cashion said that the probability of a strike growing out of the demands formulated at today's meeting was "far in the distant future to speculate about at the present," adding that negotiations with the railroads would probably occupy the attention of the switchmen's committee until late fall, after which, should the railroads refuse the increase, the matter will be taken up by the Railroad Labor Board.

Present contracts between the train service brotherhoods and the class one railroads of the country all expire between September and January, 1924, and definite action on the demands for increases is expected before the latter date.

FATHER APPROVES CHOICE OF ALLISTER MCCORMICK

(By The Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Paternal blessing has been pronounced here on the engagement of Allister McCormick to Miss Joan Tyndale Stevens.

McCormick came to Europe to marry his then fiancée, Miss Mary Landon Baker, after she had kept his waiting in vain at a church in America. She postponed the wedding several times, and the engagement was finally broken off and Miss Baker returned home.

"There has been an 'understanding' between my son and Miss Stevens for some weeks, I believe," L. Hamilton McCormick, the young man's father, said today. "Formal notice of the engagement was only sent out last night. I thoroughly approve of the engagement; she is a very beautiful and charming girl."

Miss Stevens is 18, the daughter of Mrs. Charles Melton Aspley, whose husband is a brother to Lord Hastings.

Minter Found Guilty of First Degree Murder

ZEPHAN, Ga., Sept. 6.—J. W. Minter, tonight was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in connection with the death of Millard Trouton, his son-in-law. Minter went on trial here today, and following the verdict his attorneys at once made known their intention of applying for a new trial. The date the death penalty is to be carried out was not fixed, pending the new trial motion.

Suffering of his daughter from treatment alleged to have been administered by her husband resulted in Minter becoming a monomaniac and for sometime he had craved to kill Trouton, his son-in-law according to evidence.

Trouton's body was found floating in a creek near here a month ago. Examination showed his skull was crushed and his body contained no bones. He was believed to be a bullet hole. Minter, his sons, Jeff and Grady, his sons-in-law, Floyd Weldon and Leon Goodrum, and Wm. Feltman were taken into custody and later charged with murder.

The father, according to Sheriff S. P. Carpenter's testimony, confessed to him on occasions to having killed Trouton, the motive being to prevent his daughter and son-in-law effecting a reconciliation, which Minter said he believed would bring about more suffering.

Mrs. Trouton, witnesses said, had been whipped by her husband on several occasions, once so severely that Trouton was placed in jail. Minter's daughter again made her home with her family. She told her father of her domestic trouble. Minter began to brood over it and witnesses testified that whenever Trouton's name was mentioned Minter would leap to his feet and display anger.

Dr. E. L. Merrill of Newnan, testified he had examined Mrs. Trouton in August 1922, declaring he "had never seen anyone quite so badly beaten up as she was."

Three or four days before Trouton's death, Minter received a letter from him. The letter was produced as evidence and it expressed Trouton's love for his wife and cautioned the father not to interfere with plans to effect a reconciliation.

The father, it was said, summoned his sons and in-laws; the held a council and a plan was arranged to dispose of Trouton. Feltman was secured to lure Trouton from his home to where the Minter would seize him and take him to the designated place of execution.

There was no miscarriage in the plan. Trouton faced the group in the woods, according to evidence. He was condemned to die and Sheriff Carpenter told of how Minter related to him that he and his four sons weighted Trouton down with rocks attached to a heavy low line and threw him into a creek alive. Minter said they followed the body down stream to make sure it did not come to the surface, the sheriff said. The sheriff declared Minter first admitted shooting Trouton but later retracted this part of his confession.

Minter's trial was one of the shortest in the history of Georgia courts. There were but few witnesses among them being Mrs. Mary Minter Trouton, widow, who in testifying for the defense told of domestic troubles and threats alleged to have been made by her husband against her father.

The trials of the other five men of the charges of murder in connection with Trouton's death are expected to get under way as rapidly as possible.

WILSON LIKELY TO WIN PENNANT

(By The Associated Press.)
RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 6.—With the Virginia league flag race in the last heat, the Wilson club appeared tonight as certain winner of the pennant emblematic of the league championship. Richmond will have a fighting chance to win by a narrow margin, but that seems about all. To snatch the flag from the Carolinians, Dave Robertson's men must win two straight games from Rocky Mount, the only remaining contests in which the Colts play. The season with Wilson in losing the three last games on the schedule. If the Carolinians win one game from Portsmouth tomorrow, they will win the pennant by one point margin, even though the Colts round out the season with victories tomorrow and Saturday.

Thus a single game stands between Wilson and the league championship, while the Colts find little comfort in vague hope that they will win two games and that Wilson lose three contests.

MISSOURI WINS MISS AMERICA BEAUTY CONTEST

(By The Associated Press.)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 6.—Missouri was victorious today in the first test for the beauties here from 75 American cities competing for the crown of "Miss America." Miss St. Louis (Miss Charlotte Nash) swept the boards in the roller chair parade. Initial contest feature of the third annual pageant. Miss Nash was awarded the grand prize and the verdict was popular. Applause had greeted her from the start to finish of the demonstration along a five mile route from the 200,000 persons banked on either side of the board walk.

Second prize went to "Miss Memphis"; third to "Miss Philadelphia"; fourth "Miss Pettitville" and fifth "Miss Brooklyn."

The final contest for the "Miss America" crown will take place tomorrow.

NOTED WRITERS' LOVE PACT RESULTS IN MANY SUICIDES
TOKIO, Sept. 6.—The recent double suicide of Mr. Arishima, one of Akiko Hatano, a young married woman magazine writer as a result of a love affair and death pact continues to hold the attention of the Japanese public. This is due not merely to the prominence of the pair or to their tragic deaths, for suicides of prominent persons in this country are not unusual.

It is the imitators of the famous couple that are keeping the story alive. Many couples for the most part obscure, are seeking reflected glory from the main event by imitating the writers' example.

The growth of western philosophy, however, is gradually turning the public against suicide under any circumstances.

MYSTERY OF MAN WITH THE HAUNTED EYES IS SOLVED

By MILTON BRONNER

HARPENDEN, England, Sept. 7.—"The man with the haunted eyes." That's the name of the tall, solid-looking man of sixty odd who settled among them some 16 years ago. He was known as "Count Jean Marie de Voilement." And that is all they ever did find out about him in this obscure village in Hertfordshire, only 24 miles from London.

The suspicion that he aroused was increased when the war broke out. The years slipped along and last May he died and was quietly buried in Harpenden. And three months afterwards it was accidentally revealed that he as the notorious "man without a country"—the arch rascal, traitor and spy—Major Esterhazy, one of the most notorious figures in the famous Dreyfus drama which rocked France to its foundations 26 years ago.

What the man's real name was will never be known. He came to France from Hungary, and enlisted in the famous Foreign Legion. He was to the grade of major in the French army. He was attached to the general staff. So was an artillery captain—Alfred Dreyfus.

There are leakages somewhere in the war office. French military secrets were being betrayed to the Germans. An incriminating paper was found which purported to be in the handwriting of Dreyfus. Anti-semitism at that time was at its height in France and Dreyfus was a Jew. He was accused of betraying his country and after a secret military trial in 1894 was found guilty. After years of suffering and imprisonment he was cleared in 1906.

Meanwhile the real traitor—Esterhazy—who had sold his adopted country to the Germans for a paltry $100 per month, remained in England whither he had fled. He confessed the forgery.

On the same day that Major Esterhazy left London, the bogus Count Jean Voilement appeared in Harpenden. And there he remained in obscurity, but always watched by British and French secret agents who knew his identity.

the time and have not been well since."

Counselor Blake's accusation against the Ku Klux Klan brought the first official admission that the military investigation at Tulsa was being directed against the secret organization. Heretofore Governor Walton and his advisers have refrained from naming the Klan in connection with the floggings.

Mr. Blake acted at the direction of Governor Walton in presenting to the public a review of the evidence uncovered in the military inquiry.

Marcino explained his action, Sullivan said, by claiming that when he took the securities "He was oppressed in his business ventures and for the being had lost the use of his reason."

Marcino was brought here from Houston, where he was arrested after his expulsion from Mexico. He was arraigned before Judge Lowell in the federal district court here in the day on an indictment charging him with aiding and abetting Frank L. Taylor, former president of the bank in misapplying the bank's securities. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $25,000 bail. He was held in jail tonight as the bail has not been provided.

Abraham Goldman of Chicago, Marcino's father-in-law, now is awaiting trial on a similar indictment.

Street car service in North Danville was suspended for a brief interval Wednesday night at 8 o'clock when the trolley wire at the corner of Church and North Main streets broke. A repair gang hastened from the car barns and spliced the cable.

A mother roughly dealt with when a band of twenty men raided her home and beat her husband and child brutally was the result; a member of a township school board abducted by floggers and coerced in voting for a school head whom he opposed, an elderly man lashed because he opposed the use of the local school was run; a man and a woman routed out of their beds and taken to the whipping field where the strap was applied to both, because the whippers charged they had been selling beer; these are some of the cases related by Blake from the testimony.

According to Blake, a Klansman testified as follows:

"I think there were about 150 out there. They were all disguised with old coats and with handkerchiefs tied over their eyes they had two prisoners there standing near a telephone pole. The one that was whipped first was told to leave the country. The lights from the cars shone on the faces of the prisoners. A man from some other town talked to the prisoners. I didn't know him—you see they usually have a man from some other Klan—a stranger in the community—to take charge. It is well arranged."

"The woman who was lashed testified: 'They took the quilt away from around me and I just had on my nightgown and they begin whipping and I began screaming and they put their hands over my mouth and I felt unconscious.'

"I didn't know any more until I was back in the car and when I came to I was all wet with blood and some one had held of my pulse and some one asked if my heart was beating. They whisked me again and brought me back home. I was sick at the time and have not been well since."

Street car service in North Danville was suspended for a brief interval Wednesday night at 8 o'clock when the trolley wire at the corner of Church and North Main streets broke. A repair gang hastened from the car barns and spliced the cable.

A mother roughly dealt with when a band of twenty men raided her home and beat her husband and child brutally was the result; a member of a township school board abducted by floggers and coerced in voting for a school head whom he opposed, an elderly man lashed because he opposed the use of the local school was run; a man and a woman routed out of their beds and taken to the whipping field where the strap was applied to both, because the whippers charged they had been selling beer; these are some of the cases related by Blake from the testimony.

According to Blake, a Klansman testified as follows:

"I think there were about 150 out there. They were all disguised with old coats and with handkerchiefs tied over their eyes they had two prisoners there standing near a telephone pole. The one that was whipped first was told to leave the country. The lights from the cars shone on the faces of the prisoners. A man from some other town talked to the prisoners. Counselor Blake's accusation against the Ku Klux Klan brought the first official admission that the military investigation at Tulsa was being directed against the secret organization. Heretofore Governor Walton and his advisers have refrained from naming the Klan in connection with the floggings.

Mr. Blake acted at the direction of Governor Walton in presenting to the public a review of the evidence uncovered in the military inquiry.

Marcino explained his action, Sullivan said, by claiming that when he took the securities "He was oppressed in his business ventures and for the being had lost the use of his reason."

Marcino was brought here from Houston, where he was arrested after his expulsion from Mexico. He was arraigned before Judge Lowell in the federal district court here in the day on an indictment charging him with aiding and abetting Frank L. Taylor, former president of the bank in misapplying the bank's securities. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $25,000 bail. He was held in jail tonight as the bail has not been provided.

Abraham Goldman of Chicago, Marcino's father-in-law, now is awaiting trial on a similar indictment.

Invention Of West Pointer May Conquer Gravity

(Special to The Bee.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Some years ago a young army officer went to stand on the edge of a great desert out west. He was watching the skies intently, for up there to him was one of nature's most mysterious mysteries soaring about.

An eagle or a buzzard would mount high and then in a series of graceful loops would rise and fall, and rise and fall—without any apparent effort.

"Apparently," thought this young officer, "nature has endowed you with some kind of a generator of Hertzian or wireless energy. It is possible that the feather points around the edges of your wings, polarize a horizontal plane of influence, and in that way you laugh at gravity."

And then for years Edward S. Farrow, graduate of West Point, now retired, worked to invent a mechanical device that would overcome gravity, just like the eagle or the buzzard.

And he thinks he has done so.

He calls it a "condensing dynamo" and has made it the medium of some astonishing experiments.

For instance, the inventor placed a book on an ordinary pair of scales. On top of the book he placed his condensing dynamo. They tipped the scales at 18 ounces. To the dynamo he applied power. As the current set the wheels in the dynamo whirling, the indicator slowly receded until it stood at 15 ounces.

Apparently, three ounces in weight were lost. A law of nature to all appearances had been upset.

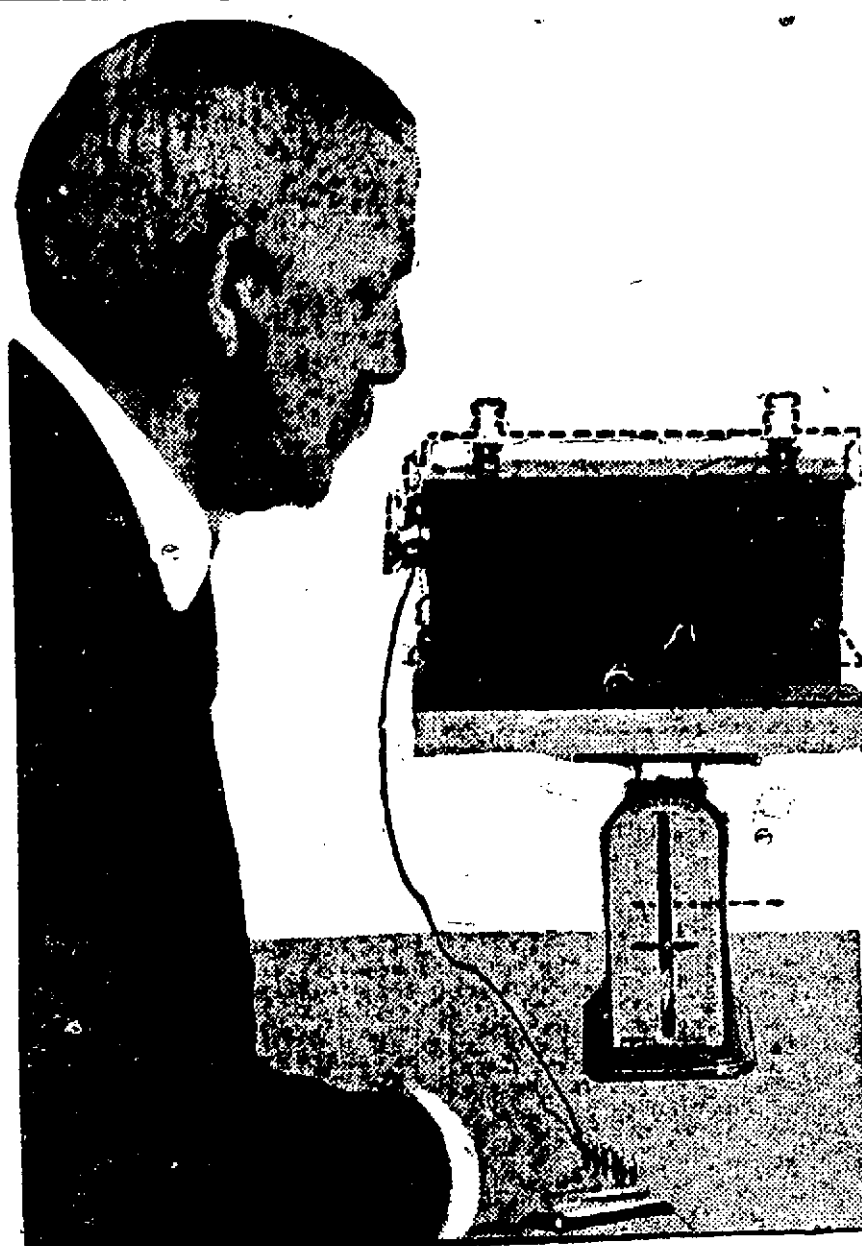

The idea behind the invention, which government experts are giving a thorough test, is based on the intensification of Hertzian, or wireless waves. These waves are transformed into electro-magnetic forces. By doing that, then, a "parallel" force is created which attempts to nullify the "vertical" force of natural gravitation.

"What would it mean to the world if Farrow's device should prove successful in a big way?"

Aviation problems would vanish, for one thing. Placed on a plane, the air would be as safe as the ground.

And then consider the moving of heavy objects, like safes, etc. Put a condensing dynamo on it and handle it like an empty barrel. Just like that.

One might even allow his imagination to stretch and find solace in the thought that individual apparatus, capable of being carried by a person, would allow a human being to soar

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARIES REPORTED SAFE

(By The Associated Press.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 6.—A five words cablegram received by headquarters of the Southern Presbyterian church here today brought relief to officers who have been alarmed over the safety of missionaries in the Orient.

The message sent L. C. Smythe, a mission worker from Charleston, S. C., killed from Kiangsu, Japan, read:

"All missions safe. Notify families."

This was the first news heard from missionaries of the Presbyterian church since the Japanese disaster.

Leaving the port of Yokohama the day before the earthquake and tidal wave which took thousands of lives in that city, the steamship "President Madison" of the Admiral Line, has arrived safely in Shanghai, China, with all of its passengers according to another telegram received this morning by the board of missions of the Methodist church here. There were a number of Tennesseans on the vessel.

Virginia Begins Raising Japan Relief Quota

(By The Associated Press.)

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 6.—Virginia began digging into her pockets today for the relief of the thousands who were homeless and destitute by the Japanese disaster. Throughout the Old Dominion, chapters of the American Red Cross set in motion the machinery that is expected to render speedy aid to earthquake sufferers.

Virginia's quota of the $5,000,000 fund which the national organization has undertaken to raise has been fixed at $55,000. Richmond's quota has been set at $10,000.

The local chapter today appropriated $5,000 for the relief fund, and several contributions were received at the campaign headquarters. Officials of the chapter expressed the belief tonight that the city's quota would be subscribed by the end of the week. Stations for the receipt of contributions will be established at various points in the business district tomorrow.

Simultaneous with the announcement of its subscription of one half of the city's quota, the local chapter issued an appeal to the public to contribute to the fund. Cash contributions were urged as the best means of rendering immediate relief and it was pointed out that delay in supplying cash for necessities would prolong the period of suffering in the stricken area.

$1,200 RAISED IN ROANOKE
(By The Associated Press.)

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 6.—More than $1,200 has been raised in Roanoke for the relief of the homeless and destitute in Japan. Roanoke's quota is $5,000. Booths will be erected tomorrow on the downtown streets of the city and it is predicted by officials in charge that the entire amount will be contributed by Monday.

WILL RAISE QUOTA
(By The Associated Press.)

LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 6.—Lynchburg Red Cross will not make a campaign for funds to raise the city's quota of $1,300 for Japanese relief, but will rely upon volunteer subscriptions, supplementing the sum thus raised from the chapter treasury.

Chairman R. T. Watts of the Red Cross said today that an active campaign will not be necessary to raise the required amount.

TO PUT ON DRIVE
BRISTOL, Va.-Tenn., Sept. 6.—Preparations were made by local Red Cross workers last night to put on a drive here tomorrow and Saturday to raise $1,500 for the Japanese relief fund. This was the quota set for Bristol by the Washington Red Cross. Several contributions have been received, but the $1,500 has not been raised without difficulty.

RESPONSE IS READY
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Response to the Red Cross appeal for the relief of earthquake sufferers in Japan continued unabated today and belief was expressed that the amount would be pledged by Monday. Officials emphasized that $5,000,000 is the minimum sought.

Reports to National Headquarters were too meagre for an estimate of the amount thus far subscribed in various sections of the country. To date, however, $1,025,000 has been received in contribution made direct to headquarters here.

Advices from Boston said its quota of $255,000 had been raised, while the Central Division, comprising ten states in the middle west, reported collections and pledges of $168,000.

The executive committee of the Red Cross spent the entire day in session in order to speed up relief measures. Word was received that three hundred tons of supplies had been shipped on the President Taft, which sailed today for Yokohama from an Francisco and that a large consignment of food, medical and hospital supplies were being sent to Japan aboard the Tyndarius by the people of Seattle.

$300 HAS BEEN GIVEN
(By The Associated Press.)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 6.—Over $300 had been subscribed tonight as part of this city's quota in the Red Cross campaign for funds for relief of Japanese sufferers. It is planned to rush the drive here to completion as quickly as possible.

JAPAN NEEDS HELP
(By The Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 6.—In a telegram signed by the Omaha News, addressed to President Calvin Coolidge today the newspaper asserts "the dire need of Japan with emergency of the farmers of the grain belt" and urges that an immediate purchase of flour on a large scale be made by the government for the relief of Japan.

N. Y. PASSES GOAL
(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—New York has passed the goal of $1,000,000 set for it in the nation's campaign for $5,000,000 to aid sufferers in stricken Japan. Tenth members of the New York chapter of the Japan Relief Committee of the American Red Cross announced the "sky as the limit" in its drive for funds and it was predicted, unofficially, that the Metropolitan alone would donate a sum almost equal to that asked from the entire country.

Contributions, many of them for thousands of dollars each, come so fast that the committee was unable to tabulate them. At noon it was announced unofficially that the donations had reached $1,000,000. The nightfall many more had been received. Many organizations had started separate drives for funds, their totals to be sent in later to help swell the grand total for the city. Churches prepared for special collection at next Sunday's services and along brightly lighted Broadway theatrical men were planning benefit performances.

The largest contribution announced today was $150,000 given by the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries. Yesterday largest gifts were headed by that of $200,000 from John D. Rockefeller Jr. and the Laura Spellman Rockefeller memorial fund. The General Electric Company gave $100,000 and the National City Bank and National City Company gave $50,000 each, others ranging from $1 to $50,000 poured in to help swell the total and a list of those contributing more than $10,000 each reads like a directory of New York's financial institutions.

SPECIFICATIONS GIVEN.

The superintendent of public utilities has had printed the specifications for the city water works improvement which will be advertised for within a few days.

Ford May Modify His Offer to Buy Muscle Shoals

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Henry Ford took under advisement today a request by secretary of War Weeks concurred in by President Coolidge, to modify his offer for the purchase and lease of the government's power and nitrate projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama. Mr. Ford is expected to give his final decision after thorough consideration at Detroit.

Secretary Weeks is understood to have asked Mr. Ford to eliminate the Gorgas power plant of the Warrior river from his proposal for the operation of the Muscle Shoals property. Secretary Weeks is said to believe that the government would be compelled under a contract agreement to sell the Gorgas plant to the Alabama Power Company and that the plant could be eliminated without sacrificing the end the Detroit manufacturer has in view.

In the event the Gorgas property is eliminated from the offer, Mr. Ford seeks to purchase the plant and the money paid the government by the Alabama Power Company would be allowed as a credit on the purchase price fixed by the Ford offer.

Throughout the Congressional hearing on the Ford proposal, representatives of the Detroit manufacturer insisted that the Gorgas unit be included and the standing refusal of suggestions from Memphis of the house and Senate committees that it be eliminated.

Mr. Ford is said to hold the same opinion today, and to still believe that the property is indispensable to the success of the plan he has in mind for development of the shoals properties.

Neither President Coolidge nor Secretary Weeks was willing that the Alabama Power Company should be allowed to buy the Gorgas plant until Mr. Ford had been consulted. The Power Company had formerly offered to pay $3,000,000 for the plant and if the sale is executed, it is understood that this sum would be deducted from the $5,000,000 which Mr. Ford offered for the Gorgas plant and the nitrate factories.

Secretary Weeks issued the following statement:

"Mr. Ford and Mr. Edsel Ford, together with their engineers, came to Washington at the request of the president for the purpose of discussing the present status of what is known as the Gorgas Power Plant and the transmission line connected with it. These properties are located on land of the Alabama Power Company."

"Mr. Ford was requested to come here to consider this matter as these properties are included in his offer to the government, now pending before Congress. Mr. Ford is to make an examination of the existing legal conditions and will take action in the early future. Until his coming today he did not know of the legal situation in which these properties are involved."

The Alabama Power Company, acting in accordance with the agreement entered into with the government when the Gorgas plant was constructed, have served notice that the war department should vacate the property not later than October 14. Presumably Mr. Ford's answer to the request to eliminate it as a part of his purchase offer will be made known to the war secretary before the date fixed for the evacuation.

DEMPSEY SAYS WILLS WILL NOT BE GIVEN CHANCE
(By The Associated Press.)

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Harry Wills, negro challenger to the world's heavy weight championship, will never have a chance to win the title while Jack Dempsey is champion. The title holder made this declaration tonight after receiving a visit from Faddy Mullins, manager of Wills, had instituted action in an attempt to stop the Dempsey-Firpo match at New York, Sept. 14.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, left immediately for New York upon a message from Tex Rickard, promoter of the contest.

Kearns said he had been summoned to make an affidavit for the champion and himself, explaining their connections with the fight.

Dempsey was fighting mad when word reached him that Mullins was endeavoring to stop the match with the giant South American because of Dempsey's failure to meet Wills first. He became further enraged after Rickard had communicated with Kearns and the situation was explained: "This means that Wills never will get a chance at the title while I am champion," Dempsey said, "he doesn't deserve a chance after such tactics. I had intended taking him on if I still held the title after boxing Firpo, but I will not do it now under any consideration. There is no chance for either Mullins or Wills or their lawyers stopping my bout with Firpo. I am confident of that."

Kearns, before his departure, said he was not worrying over any legal action that Mullins might undertake. He said the only situation that concerned him was preparing Dempsey for Firpo.

Dempsey today started to ease up in his training, reducing his boxing to four rounds instead of the customary six or eight, and eliminating the work of attacking the heavy leather-forked spring dummy. The champion's work out, aside from his usual morning run, and the boxing consisted of a round each of shadow boxing, tugging the chest weights and punching the light bag.

Manager Kearns explained the reduction by saying Dempsey was ready to enter the ring tomorrow and that he did not care to risk the danger of

Community Wheat Grinding Proves Big Success

HOW PARSONS (KAR.) WHEAT FARMERS TURNED THEIR GRAIN FROM LOSS TO PROFIT. SCENE AT THE FREE MILLS ARRANGED FOR THEIR USE.

(Special to The Bee.)

PARSONS, Kas., Sept. 7.—Wheat sold on the market here is worth only 75 cents a bushel. Ground into stock feed and fed to hogs and cattle it is worth more than a dollar a bushel.

Hundreds of farmers, hard hit by the tumble in wheat prices, heard the foregoing in a speech made by W. H. Metzger, county agent.

It sounded good to many farmers—but cash was scarce after harvest time and farmers decided to turn loose their grain at a loss and take the consequences.

Then the Parsons Chamber of Commerce stepped in, put the proposition before two large implement dealers, and free grinding was offered the farmers.

The first Saturday 600 bushels were ground and the second week more than 2,000 bushels. The plan has been so successful that the Kansas State Agricultural College has recommended it to all counties in Kansas. As a result, many towns in Labette county have provided grinders for the farmers.

I had intended taking him on if I still held the title after boxing Firpo, but I will not do it now under any consideration. There is no chance for either Mullins or Wills or their lawyers stopping my bout with Firpo. I am confident of that."

Kearns, before his departure, said he was not worrying over any legal action that Mullins might undertake. He said the only situation that concerned him was preparing Dempsey for Firpo.

Dempsey today started to ease up in his training, reducing his boxing to four rounds instead of the customary six or eight, and eliminating the work of attacking the heavy leather-forked spring dummy. The champion's work out, aside from his usual morning run, and the boxing consisted of a round each of shadow boxing, tugging the chest weights and punching the light bag.

Manager Kearns explained the reduction by saying Dempsey was ready to enter the ring tomorrow and that he did not care to risk the danger of

FARMERS MEETING
REIDSVILLE, N. C., Sept. 6.—About 1,500 farmers of the surrounding section are in Reidsville today for a two-day "get-together" meeting, the purpose of which is designed to get the farmers to trade here. No fixed program has been prepared but informal events are being held. G. W. Childwell addressed a large group of the farmers today. Prizes are being offered by various agricultural producers on exhibition here and some unusually fine specimens of agricultural products are on display. The farmers will remain through tomorrow.

LEAGUE AS PEACE POWER

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 6.—Addressing the Kiwanis Club at the hotel duPont, United States Senator Bayard declared that he believed if the United States was a member of the League of Nations the present quarrel between Italy and Greece would not have occurred. The Senator urged the club members to think seriously of the League of Nations, not as a political problem, but one of everlasting peace.

Japanese Fund Growing Rapidly

Committee Moves Swiftly to Meet Relief Needs of Stricken Japan—Shipments of Food, Clothes and Lumber Ordered.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Early reports to Red Cross headquarters today indicated that subscriptions to the five million dollar Japanese relief fund were nearing two million dollars. Encouraged by reports of financial support, the executive committee moved swiftly to meet the immediate relief needs as outlined in official advice from the Oriental Secretary Hoover bringing to bear his experience from the vast purchasing problems of the Belgian Relief Commission the United States Grain Corporation and the American Relief Administration worked plans to obtain and ship at once canned fish, clothing, underwear, shoes, galvanized iron, lumber and tarpaulins for temporary shelter. Instructions were sent to the Pacific coast officials to accompany shipments for such commodities as rice with material to build warehouses for the supplies when they reach Yokohama. Experts of the Department of Commerce and the relief administration were in conference with Red Cross officials to see that the execution of Mr. Hoover's plans were facilitated as much as possible.

GIRL OF AMERICAN BLOOD MAY WED BRITISH PRINCE

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Despite cautiously worded official denials, the report persists in well-informed quarters here of the pending engagement of Prince George, youngest son of the King and Queen, to Lady Alexandra Curzon, youngest daughter of Foreign Secretary Curzon by his first wife, who was Miss Mary Leiter, of Washington.

Lady Alexandra is 19. The Prince will be 21 December 20. From a source which has hitherto proved exceedingly reliable regarding engagements in royal and high social circles here, it is said the betrothal will be announced on or just before the Prince's twenty-first birthday. It is said about six months will elapse between the engagement and the marriage.

If the wedding materializes it will mean that for the first time there will be a distinct American blood relationship with British royalty.

What's Going on in the World

WEEK'S CHIEF EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.

N. E. A. Service Writer

IN loss of life the Japanese earthquake seems likely to prove the most appalling disaster in history. The swarming populations of oriental countries lend themselves to almost incredible numbers in such cases. As for property loss, figures are deceptive. Except for a comparatively few fine buildings, Japanese structures are more lath, paper and straw band-boxes, worth little more than the same tents and affording about the same shelter. Reconstruction will be rapid.

self-respect. Greece demurred. Italy almost instantly seized several Greek islands, bombarding one of them, thus asserting control of the Adriatic Sea, which she's long wanted to make an Italian lake of.

League of Nations

Greece appealed to the League of Nations.

Under League rules, a member committing an act of defiance of the rest of the membership, thereby commits an act of war against all of them.

Italy denies she's committed an act of war, but everybody knows better.

But the League's two big members are England and France. They disagree over France's Ruhr policy.

Each wants Italy to side with her on this question. Query: "Will either dare to risk angering Italy by defending Greece?"

True, the League has other members. But they're the smaller ones and can do much if England and France fear to act.

Apt to Spread

If Italy pushes hostilities against Greece, she almost automatically involves Yugoslavia (Greater Serbia) in the Balkans, Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary, and maybe Russia. After that, nobody can tell where trouble will stop.

Spain's Cabinet Resigns Posts

(By The Associated Press.)

MADRID, Sept. 1.—The Spanish cabinet presented its resignation tonight.

At the cabinet meeting preceding the resignation of the ministers, Miguel Villanueva, minister of finance, voiced strong opposition to the plan submitted by the general staff relative to the military operations in Morocco.

The minister of labor and commerce also sought to convince his colleagues that it was impossible to provide the funds necessary for the operations by the general staff because of the enormous expenditures already made in this connection.

The minister of public works Rafael Gasset, disapproved of the plan because under it he would have to surrender all the funds put at his disposal for improvement of public works.

Alvarez Llores and Luis Arminhan Abitia are mentioned for the new ministry.

NEGRO BLAMES FARMERS

FAIRBROOK, N. D., Sept. 6.—A posse of farmers stood guard around the old mail box near Tyler's Lake most of last night in an effort to capture the negro alleged to have invaded Mrs. Walter Smith, a farmer's wife, near Sewell. The negro was reported to be still at large today. County authorities have taken up the search started by farmers and armed firemen yesterday.

Bid For Popularity

Italy not only wants to control the Adriatic.

She wants territory on the Adriatic's eastern shores, too. It was what she went into the World War for. The peace treaty cowered her out of it. By beating Greece (which will be easier for her if others don't interfere) she may get it yet.

Premier Mussolini may have a personal stake, also. When a near-victory made him virtual dictator he was very popular. There are signs that lately he's been losing much of this popularity. Jingoism may restore it.

In the Ruhr

A story's current that Chancellor Stresemann has decided to cease "passive resistance" in the Ruhr and is negotiating secretly with a good prospect of ending Franco-German difficulties. This story's denied, too. It's too soon to guess who's telling the truth.

Coal Miners' Strike

The hard coal miners finally struck, despite President Coolidge's efforts, through Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, to prevent it. It's promised there'll be plenty of soft coal but most people will be surprised if it isn't mighty expensive.

Good Morning Judge!

A warrant against Robert Royster, colored, charging him with feloniously assaulting Lottie Brown, was dismissed at a hearing in the police court this morning.

Marie Jones had testified that Royster had struck her two severe blows on the head but the injured woman testified that she fell down and sustained the wounds and that Royster had not assaulted her. The commonwealth on hearing the woman's denial that Royster struck her asked for a dismissal, pending evidence which he hoped to secure to swear out another warrant.

The woman was rendered unconscious and sixteen stitches in the wounds were required. At that time she said that Royster had attacked her but made a denial of this today.

W. G. Moore was acquitted of a charge of violating the liquor laws. A search of his home several days ago revealed a quantity of liquor hidden on a branch near his home. The evidence was not regarded sufficient to convict him.

Leroy Johnson, colored, drew a fine of $11 and costs on a charge of reckless driving.

A warrant against "Mr. Simpkins," charging an assault on W. J. Burton, was dismissed.

Cleve Jones and Jesse Moorefield were held for the grand jury on storebreaking charges.

Former Resident Injured In N. Y.

Mrs. J. C. Hall received a wire last night stating that her father, John Haar, and his little grandson were in a New York hospital in a serious condition as the result of the car in which they were riding yesterday being hit by a train at Corning, New York.

Details of the accident were not given, the wire only stating that Mr. Haar, his grandson, and another man were riding in a car when it was struck by a train near Corning and all seriously injured. Mr. and Mrs. Hall left last night for New York.

Until four years ago Mr. Haar lived in Pennsylvania county only a few miles from Danville, and he has many friends in the city and county who will regret to hear of the accident.

Two Held For Store Robbery

Jesse Moorefield and Cleve Jones, two white youths were placed under arrest yesterday by Detective J. N. Campbell on charges of store-breaking and robbery. They were charged with breaking into the store of H. C. Pattisall on Claiborne street and stealing cigarettes, cigars and other small articles to the value of about $5.

The youths were given hearing in the Police court this morning and their cases sent to the grand jury.

Jones, in a statement made a complete confession, which involved Moorefield who had previously indicated that he would deny the charge. Jones said that Moorefield, under the influence of whisky came by his house and asked him to take a walk with him. He consented and the two set out down the street. When they came to Pattisall's store, he said, it began to rain. Moorefield was leaning against the plate glass window and with a sudden jab, punched his elbow through the glass. They left, Jones said, and went to the corner and sat there for about half an hour. He stated they then returned and entered the store, he taking some cigarettes and some hose, while Moorefield got some cigarettes and a bottle of Cod Liver Oil. In leaving the store Moorefield, he said, stumbled over a bench and spilled his goods but soon recovered them.

Danville Grabs Two From Greensboro, Raleigh Lose

Grandstand Gaff

One Big Day.

Yesterday was a "grand and glorious" occasion for Murphy and his men. Raleigh lost, the league moguls upheld Danville's decision, and above all the Virginians walked off Greensboro two games in the same afternoon on the Carolinians' home lot. Learning the directors had let them keep everything they had won by hard play the club pepped things up as they had never before. To hear them in talking behind "Lefty" Wilson was similar to listening to a half-dozen choked phonographs running away.

Quite a Relief.

For many weeks the directors' session has been held over the Murphyites head—probably purposely—and the strain has had its effect. During the weeks Murphy has been working under the dire thoughts that the moguls might take away from him everything that had been won by a club that had cost him much money to assemble unit by unit. Murphy's work on the diamond for years is bound up in the local club and it meant win all or lose all to the Danville pilot. The big happy smile that spread over his face as he walked from the directors' room told the story. The dream of having their work of many weeks shuffled out of their win column by one move of the moguls was also tolling on the players. If Murphy's clan had been a fighting bunch before they were regular wildcats when they heard the outcome of the meeting.

Dependable "Lefty."

Standing on the mound where he had twirled games for his alma mater, while captain of the Carolina University club, "Lefty" Wilson felt the old "soup bone" was in rare form and after turning back the Carolinians in the first encounter begged to go back against them in the second. He asked to go, Murphy let him go, and the dejected Greensboro stands told the story as goose-egg after goose-egg was hung on the big scoreboard behind the third base. For fourteen times "Lefty" coolly held the Carolinians away from the plate and tucked away in the records the first "iron man" stunt of the season and one that tops all others in Piedmont League history. Of six games with Greensboro, Danville won three and Wilson was on the mound on each occasion.

Wilson's Support.

Back of "Lefty's" triumphant day was a fighting infield and outfield that played a big role in his two victories. For 16 innings Trexler, Regan and Smith chased all over the grass in the Greensboro outfield and stabbed hard drives both high and low, with Trexler taking the laurels on his running catch of Pierre's sizzling shot. The inner works chattered and fought behind the southpaw like Connie Mack's "Million Dollar Infield" of old.

Dave Cochlin's Bat.

All season Murphy's young catcher has been hitting them hard but some opposing outer gardeners seemed to be under everything he hit. Yesterday he was the star of the game, his triple and long sacrifice fly with Regan's three base-clout and Trexler's double won the second game. To Cochlin "Lefty" allowed the Greensboro twirler, was not "Moonshine" but "Climax" the climax to his hard-luck hitting.

Poor Bill Pierre.

The Tobaccoists fight was demonstrated in the manner in which they annexed extra bases off Bill Pierre's whip. In the first game, Ted Smith, Leard and Dorman "hit the dirt" safely at second on Bill's throw, and in the second Trexler stole second and third and Smith pilfered the keystone sack for his second time. Sometimes it was the hurler's fault, as it was when Trexler was almost to third before "Lefty" Moon realized anything was moving behind him, but it almost made Bill weep to see the regular with which Tandy pulled his swash give safety as some runner slid into a base.

Cheer Don't Kick.

During the few days the Virginians were on the mound, several players were in for some criticism by fans who thought the players in question were giving their best. With the reason of yesterday surely there is no need of cheering.

There is not a player working under Murphy who would not rather have their off-days lasting some times for weeks, and fans should remember this when some favorite is not meeting up to form. It is a goodish to think any player would lay down at the first sign of trouble. Every single solitary Murphy is out there working not only for the pennant but for a job next season. Just a little thought will show any fan that the future's check means as much to a ball player as does the fan's own source of income. Boost the boys when the breaks are against them. Kicking won't help them brace up.

Cy Twombly Today.

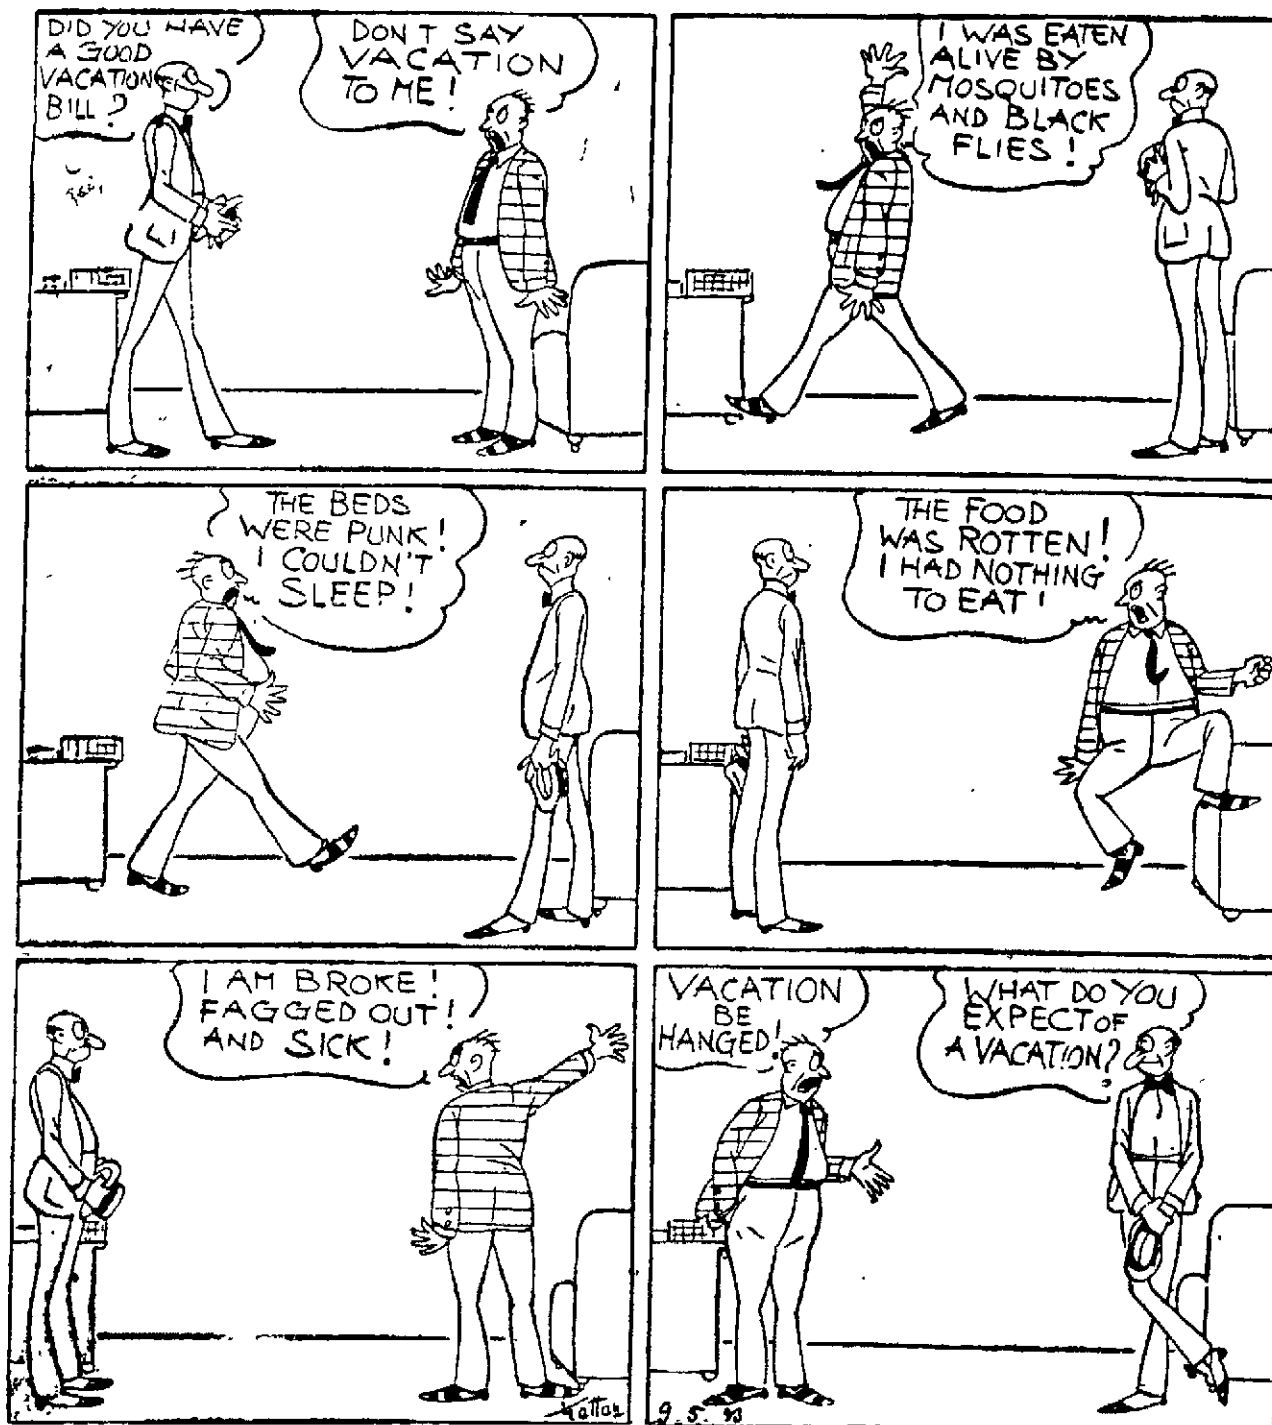

Cy Twombly will work against the Durham club today and with several days rest Cy should make the Bulls live hard. The annexation of the two Durham games means a lot to the club and will be well worth watching.

Raleigh Loses To Bulls, 7-3

RALEIGH, Sept. 6.—Raleigh lost to Durham here this afternoon while Danville was taking two from Greensboro. The Capitals dropping back to two and a half games behind the leaders. The Bulls' victory was by a 7 to 3 score, thanks to Fitcher Lloyd, who twirled effectively. He allowed the locals nine hits but kept them well scattered. The visitors received the same number of bingles off Proctor and Riel but they managed to bunch them. Whitely made several spectacular catches in center-field for Durham. Durham's home run came in the seventh on. The box score:

TEXAS CONSIDERING FIXING GAS PRICES

By JAMES H. RECORD
FORT WORTH, Sept. 6.—Independent gasoline jobbers in Fort Worth and other points in this territory are considering seriously requesting Governor Neff and the Texas legislature to fix the price of gasoline. This step, one prominent jobber who is a leader among the independents declared today was being considered with reluctance as it involves many easily recognizable drawbacks but many jobbers see no other way out. The jobbers generally complained to the attorney general of the state that two leading standard oil subsidiaries, under cover of an anti-trust gasoline war, were putting the price of gasoline so low as to threaten to eliminate the independent jobbers.

DANVILLE'S CHANCES OF TAKING SECOND HALF LAURELS BRIGHT

With just eight games scheduled for each team before the close of the second half struggle of the Piedmont League and assuming that all of them are played by both teams, if Raleigh loses 3 and wins 5, Danville need only win 3 of its 8 to land the league lead at the finish. If Raleigh won 6 and lost only 2, Danville need only win four of its remaining games to clinch first place.

Should the Raleigh bunch win 7 of its 8 remaining games, Danville by winning 5 and losing 3 might still nose the Capitals out.

Assuming that rain butts in and prevents one of the remaining scheduled games of each team, leaving only 7 actually played by each team, Raleigh might win 5 and lose 2 and yet be beaten if Danville wins 3 and loses 4.

Beginning today, Danville has two games in this city with the Durham team, while Raleigh is playing today and tomorrow with Winston in Raleigh. Next week, Danville has four successive games on the road—Monday and Tuesday at Durham, and Wednesday and Thursday at High Point. Raleigh will be playing at Winston Monday and Tuesday, but will come home to play Greensboro on Wednesday and Thursday in Raleigh, and must close the season next Friday and Saturday at High Point while Danville is playing the Greensboro bunch in Danville. Thus it will be seen that both Danville and Raleigh have four of their six games next week on the road with this difference: Raleigh's six are split with a

No Games Taken From Danville By League Moguls

(Special Staff Correspondence)
GREENSBORO, Sept. 6.—At last word is over and Danville remains at the top of the league where the victories they won on the diamond placed them. As was predicted by The Danville Register the meeting proved to be nothing more than a conciliatory move for the benefit of the moguls. The moguls themselves were unable to cope with the Murphyites during the second half. With a full meeting, presided over by President W. G. Bramham, the decision made by the league head many weeks ago was let stand. Nothing the moguls of the other clubs started up could shift the ruling handed down. Every game won was accepted to the Official Guide, and those who were desirous of seeing Danville dropped were doomed to disappointment. The loss of one game and a $200 fine, the penalty imposed by Bramham, was the correct move according to the directors and the famous "Cudge" Harris dispute is now history.

The meeting opened promptly at 12:30 in the O. Henry hotel behind closed doors with representatives of the following clubs present: Col. Cox of Raleigh; W. G. Bramham of Durham; Herb Murphy of Danville; A. L. Lyons of High Point; G. E. Stokard of Greensboro; and President Bramham.

A. L. Lyons, the High Point magnate, led the fight to have Murphy pay a heavier penalty. The discussion revolved around two heads. One contention was that Murphy played Harris all season, knowing him to be a class man, and the other that Harris should have been released instead of being suspended. In the first case the argument was not carried far. No one could prove Murphy broke the rule knowingly, and directors, who have shown they were out for a fair deal, were well aware that Harris had already performed in the circuit two seasons and for this reason they knew the Danville pilot would not have been carried the player. The second contention was known at the time that Harris was a class man. In fact no manager or sport writer in the loop had the least suspicion that Harris was a class man until someone anxious to see the Virgilian dumped off the top began peering into the records. Lyons' idea that the Tobaccoists should lose all their games because Harris was where there is fighting in the streets.

REVOLUTIONISTS START UPRISING IN TOKIO
MOSCOW, Sept. 6.—Despatches received here from Harbin and Peking say that the Korean revolutionary element in Japan are taking advantage of the catastrophe and have started armed uprising in Tokio. Before adjournment of the present session, it was announced, the commission will consider plans for improvement of the jails and almshouses situation in the state. In many counties movements have been inaugurated with a view to abolishing county almshouses because of the small number of charges.

It has been suggested that the state establish almshouses in central locations with a view to reducing the expense of administering aid to indigent persons.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Sept. 6.—

Their fighting spirit revived by the decision of the League directors not to take any more games from the club's won column, Danville went back into her old form today, and defeated Greensboro in both games of a double-header, the first one 6 to 2 and the second seven innings affair 4 to 0. Lefty Wilson worked on the mound in both games for Danville and was invincible in both contests, pitching fourteen shutout innings. While Danville was taking two, Raleigh tossed clout behind the two. Raleigh's losing streak was being trimmed. Durham and the leaders are now back to a lead of two and a half games.

Lefty Wilson had the Patriots at his mercy during both games. In the first he allowed them eleven bingles but was so effective in the pinches that no scoring was done after the second inning. He allowed a run to cross the platter in the first and second but after that he turned the bases clean. Danville registered one in the first but did not score further until the 8th, when they sent across three runners. With one out, Dorman singled to right and stole second. Leard hit through Magrann, the fielder being credited with an error. Smith hit to the pitcher and Dorman was caught between third and home. Trexler singled to center and Leard scored. Resco looked dangerous and was purposely walked, filling the bases. Regan got an infield hit to short and Smith scored. Trexler scored from third on a passed ball. The Tobaccoists added another in their half of the ninth off three singles, a base on balls and a sacrifice hit.

Greensboro's first run came off a single and two sacrifices and an error. Their second and last run was in the second and was the result of two singles and a two bagger. Smith started the scoring with four hits out of five trips to the plate. Shay and Trexler afforded the fielding features. Trexler robbing Pierre, a hit. He ran against the fence and speared the ball with one hand.

At the end of the first game, Lefty Wilson made it known that he was feeling fine and was in good condition to continue on the hilllock also through the second inning contest. He was permitted to do so and allowed the locals but three scattered hits, one coming in the second, one in the sixth and another in the third. Lefty Moon pitted against him on the mound was also showing his stuff. For four innings he did not allow the Tobaccoists a single hit, not a man reaching first. He had a fast ball with a big break working fine and even the strongest Tobaccoist sluggers were puzzled. Catcher Cochlin was the first visitor to outguess him. Cochlin, who alternates with Kearney in the catching department held down third in the place of Manager Murphy and he did it in fine style, slammed out one good for three in the fifth and bringing in Trexler and Regan. The former had reached first on Magrann's error and had stolen second. Resco popped out but Regan worked a pass and then Cochlin's sizzler to deep center.

They added another in the sixth. Smith got the second hit off Moon and stole second. He came home on Trexler's timely two bagger. The fourth run came in the seventh. Regan first up tripled to the outfield and Cochlin again figured by hitting a long fly to Shay who made a spectacular catch of it after running against the fence.

Shay made two other brilliant catches, one shooting catch robbing Leard of a hit. Conley also kept Dorman from making another hit by his sensational catch in the second.

WILLS ENJOINS COMING BATTLE

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The next step in an attempt by Harry Wills, negro heavyweight title contender, to throw legal entanglements in the path of the Jack Dempsey-Louis Firpo championship match will be tomorrow morning when an order requiring the State Athletic Commission to show cause why the bout should not be enjoined, is returnable in supreme court.

Papers in the mandamus action were served today upon the commission according to Wills' counsel, William Klein. The commission refused to comment on the situation but it was indicated legal representatives would attend the court hearing tomorrow. Klein emphasized today that the action was directed solely at the State Athletic Commission and not against Tex Rickard, promoter of the Firpo-Dempsey match, which is scheduled at the Polo Grounds September 14. Rickard, however, said he probably would be represented in any legal proceedings.

PEARL BENBOE CAPTURES RACE

(By The Associated Press.)
HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 6.—Pearl Benboe won the thirty eighth renewal of the $10,000 Grand Circuit stake, the feature of the card circuit meeting here, defeating Taurida after three close finishes this afternoon. Pearl Benboe won the first heat by half a length; but Taurida captured the second when Murphy's $25,000 trotter broke in the stretch. Taurida came fast in the stretch in the third heat but could not catch Murphy's mount. The time of each heat was 2:04 1-4. It was Murphy's sixth Charter Oak stake win.

Edward Markag, another of the Murphy stable, won the 2:06 pace from Bonnie Del. Wellington won the 2:08 pace from Lambert Todd taking the first two heats but being outbraked by Murphy's pacer in the third. The two leading pacers of the field traveled the last half of the second mile in 59 3-4 seconds.

Kinks-o' the Links

In a friendly match game between two players, A and B, the match, having played nine holes, as to the length of the match. A has won seven of the first nine holes. B claims the match is of 36 holes, while A says that 18 is always considered the proper number unless otherwise stipulated. A has such a commanding lead in the first nine holes that B is naturally desirous of having the match a 36-hole affair.

Unless some stipulation is made prior to the start of the match, the playing of a full round, which consists of 18 holes, is the customary length of a golf match. On that line of reasoning, A would be right in his contention that the match was to be of 18 holes.

Two players in a club tournament have a dispute over a certain point of play. A claims that B has erred in his play, and makes such a claim before going to the tee of the next hole. Since it is impossible for the players to definitely settle the matter, how is A's claim to get proper recognition?

A having called the attention of his opponent B to what he believes was a mistake has done the proper thing. On the completion of the round A should immediately place his claim before the committee in charge of the competition and get a ruling. Since the result of that hole may have a decided bearing on the match.

Is it possible to concede a putt in medal play?

It is directly contrary to the rules to concede a putt in medal play. In a medal round, the ball must be holed out on every green. In match play, short putts are often conceded. Players are not supposed to do it, but there is no fixed penalty for so doing. In medal play, for a score to be correct, each and every putt must be sunk.

Smith is playing Jones a handicap match. Smith is the better player. Prior to the start of the match he reaches the first tee. Smith asks Jones how many strokes he must give him. Jones replies that he is entitled to a five-stroke handicap. The match was played with Smith giving Jones a handicap of five and halved. After Smith has left the clubhouse, Jones discovers that he should have had a six-stroke handicap which would have won the match for him. Jones then enters a protest to the committee in charge. Should Jones be credited with the match or should it be replayed?

The original error was made by Jones when he informed Smith that he must give him a 5-stroke handicap. The entire match was played with the belief that five strokes was the proper handicap. It has been precedent that such matches must stand as played and in this case Jones should abide by his own mistake.

Neale Will Coach Virginia Eleven; Prospects Good

(Special To The Register.)

UNIVERSITY, Va., Sept. 6.—Exactly three hundred games will have been played by football teams representing the University of Virginia if the season of 1923 is gone through with as scheduled. Practices for the thirty-fourth team that the Old Dominion has put in the field since the gridiron sport was introduced in 1885, will be started on Monday.

Stage Blackford, who will head the Orange and Blue eleven from his position at tackle, will be the thirty-fourth captain of Virginia football teams, for although in 1909 and again in 1911 the squads were under the leadership of two men, J. A. Penton was twice reelected.

STAGE BLACKFORD

Virginia will be coached through her thirty-fourth season by Earle Neale who worked with Marietta College, West Virginia Wesleyan, and Washington and Jefferson has won him a place among the leading gridiron guides of America.

Football, when introduced at Virginia in 1885, made a poor start according to records for all seasons that were compiled for Corks and Curls by Spencer McQuilough. Three games were played in the opening season, Virginia winning from Pantops Academy and Episcopal High school, but losing to Johns Hopkins 26 to 0.

The worst defeat and the most decisive victory in Virginia football history both occurred two seasons later in 1890. Princeton piled up a score of 116 against the Old Dominion and just two weeks later the Orange and Blue did its best to even things up by romping over Randolph-Macon College by a score of 136 to 0.

Next season Virginia got the blood of the Tiger by winning from Princeton 12 to 0. One of the most notable teams ever turned out by the University played in 1893. After a 34 to 4 victory over Richmond, the team was into a decline and lost to Penn State, the Navy and Georgetown with slight victories over the Washington Y. M. C. A. and Johns Hopkins in between.

This was mainly due to the fact that Virginia was late in getting a coach, and once the team fell into its stride the Old Dominion won with five shut-outs in a row.

A 39 to 0 score over Trinity was only a starter for on the following Thursday the Orange and Blue rolled over Georgetown by a count of 88 to 0 and then made a full week of it by defeating the Navy 12 to 0 on Saturday. In the next games that closed this remarkable season Virginia won from Virginia Military Institute 22 to 0 and from North Carolina 16 to 0.

In the early nineties Virginia's supremacy in the South could hardly be disputed and the mythical "Championship of the South" was lodged in Charlottesville for several years without a break. From 1892, when Virginia was defeated in a post season exhibition game against North Carolina after having won the southern championship the day before, over Trinity in Atlanta, until 1898 when the Old Dominion lost to the Tar Heels 6 to 2, the Orange and Blue was not defeated by any team below the Mason and Dixon line except the Navy.

Long schedules of 11 games, were common on those days. In the seasons of '94, '95, and '96 Virginia went through such a series of contests, bowing only to Princeton and Pennsylvania. The schedule of nine games has been adhered to since 1914.

SUPERSTITIOUS BASEBALL

Many's the fan who has pondered every way they knew how and went in to win and won.

Did you ever notice how Pilot Herb expectorates on the end of the big black bat as he ambles to the plate; ever watch Freddie Dorman pat the palms of his hands on the ground at a critical time either in the field or at bat, or see Bill Leard scoop up a handful of sand and toss it around in the infield. Just look them over today. They're human and you will no doubt find an oddity about each member of Murphy's clan.

Superstition, Lady Luck or the working of the subconscious mind, which ever is your favorite way of terming it, has its share in most everything in life. Overseas you couldn't have paid some dough boys to put on their left shoe first—it meant stopping some Hun pellet during the day. Every morning before you go to work there is some little routine you go through with, regularly. In the same way, you call it habit but it borders on superstition. Don't name the ball players because they think some little oddity in the way they don't think uniform will have an effect on the day's game.

The Virginians dropped three straight to Greensboro. The club couldn't understand. The outfield and Lew Kearney decided Thursday to back away Lady Luck on their side and win. Ted Smith pulled his "holy" stockings on his left foot unknowingly. Trex shifted the holes around his ankles out, and Big Lew wanted the ripped places in his knit work turned out to the front. Everything was working just right. On the first trip up from the field Eddie Regan rouch third in a way that brought a smile to the face of Lady Luck. The game was won, perhaps it was because of "Lefty's" great twirling and perchance it was just recovery from a slump, but don't try to tell that gang those stockings didn't play a part. They cuddled Dame Fortune in

PREPARE FOR EARLY OPENING THIS WEEK

ST. LOUIS Sept. 6.—Manufacturers and wholesalers throughout the South and west are preparing for an early opening of fall trade, with indications of an active demand for seasonable goods. Retailers who so far have bought only for immediate needs have found recorders necessary as employment and consumption are at high tide. Buying of iron and steel products are improving and buyers are more inclined to accept current prices without dispute. Plans are being made for increased production in the mills as soon as colder weather makes its appearance. Sales of Cambrics, ginghams and other drygood staples are almost double what they were a year ago.

HURTS MAN ON FIRST TRIP

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 6.—Vincent Gosporovich, St. Peter's church, was held in $1500 bail today for a hearing following the serious injury of John Brunowsky, of Bannockburn, whom he ran down. The injured man is in a critical condition at the Sacred Heart hospital, this city. It was Gosporovich's first experience at driving a car.

SCENE IN TOKIO DURING THE EARTHQUAKE

(By The Associated Press.)
HONOLULU, Sept. 6.—No other word but "hell" can depict the scene in Tokio during and after the earthquake, according to the Tokio correspondent of the Hawaii Shippo, who thru sent from Sendai, Japan, an
"eyewitness" story of the disaster.
No vocabulary, he declared, would suffice to describe it adequately.

"The first great quake came at 11:
55 a. m. Saturday, last," the correspondent said. "It was without warning most of the buildings of Tokio collapsed at the first shock.
The center of the quake seemed to be in Tokio and Kanagawa, but it was felt throughout the entire region between Nagoya on the southwest and Aomori on the north, a region comprising virtually the northeastern half island of Honshu.

"The earthquake was preceded by a tremendous landslide along the Sagami coast. Fires which followed in the wake of the earthquake were

"With the proclamation of mar-tal law, General Fukuda was appointed emergency commander of the Tokio area. Admiral Nomaguchi, commander of the Yokosuka naval base, was appointed commander of the area including Yokohama and Yokosuka.

"Among the known dead are Baron Y. Matsukata, member of the Privy council; Baron Y. Sonoda, member of the Imperial council.

"After the earthquake Tokio was a living hell. Crazed, horrified refugees stormed the parks to escape the flames. Those who were too slow or too weak from exhaustion and excitement were soon overtaken by the flames which engulfed them. The fire spread with remarkable rapidity.

"In the chaos and pandemonium, children were torn from their parents and wives from their husbands. The surviving populace ran wildly about, helpless before their savage, mingled with the crackling of mountainous flames, explosions and other thunderous noises.

"In a short time thousands of bodies were strewn about the streets.
The Imperial gardens and the military barracks throughout the city were opened to refugees.
The cabinet appropriated 9,500,000
yen for relief."
